11 Killed, 8 Injured In Crash Of DC3 Airliner

MASON CITY, Iowa, (AP) — A Braniff International Airways DC3, warned not to land here because of a wild storm, crashed into a pasture yesterday, killing 11 of the 19 persons aboard. Eight were injured, two critically.

An earlier report had given a power failure at the airport as a factor in the crash, but airport officials said the report was erroneous. A power failure an hour later had disrupted some air traffic temporarily but had nothing to do with the crash, they explained.

The plane, northbound from Memphis, Tenn., to Minneapolis, was only about 10 minutes out from the field, Braniff officials said, when they radioed it to hold off landing because of the storm.

Got No Answer

The field never received an answer, airline officials reported.

The plane crashed on a farm 4½ milts south of Swaledale.

Highway patrolmen reported a wire of a new high-voltage power line between Fort Dodge and Mason City had been snapped and they said they believed the plane had hit it.

Debris from the crash was spread along a line of more than 50 feet. Police said the plane apparently struck the ground, then bounced for some distance. The plane was demolished, only tht tail section remaining relatively intact.

Pilot, Co-pilot Die

The plane's pilot, Capt. W. A. Pickering, 40, of Parkville, Mo., died at the scene of the crash. The co-pilot, W. B. Wilde, 31, of Minneapolis died a short time later at the Hampton, Iowa, hospital.

The hostess, Miss Betty Ann Truly, 23, of Kansas City and Shreveport, La., was reported in "fair" condition at Mercy Hospital in Mason City.

Rescue workers had to cut through the tangled wreckage with torches to free some of the groaning passengers. The workers said there were repeated cries of "Get us out! Get us out!"

After the dead and injured were removed, Iowa National Guardsmen moved in to keep spectators from the scene pending arrival of federal officials expected here today to investigate the crash.

In Dallas, Braniff officials said it was the first fatal crash of one of the line's planes since 1939.

Rubber Strike Negotiations Are Resumed

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Negotiations resumed today between the CIO United Rubber Workers and the nation's four major rubber companies — two strikebound and two whose employes are working on a day-to-day basis without contracts.

So far, bargainers have reported no progress in their talks. The main point at issue is the union's demand that the firms correct what the union calls interplant wage inequities.

A union spokesman has said the URW believes "it is necessary that all plants be paid the same wages so that there will be no incentive for the companies to move operations from place to place."

Strikebound are The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., whose 23,000 production workers across the country went out 47 days ago and The Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., with 22,000 idle for 11 days. Negotiations for both firms are being carried on in Cleveland.

Also talking contract are The B. F. Goodrich Co., at meetings in Cincinnati, and The U.S. Rubber Co., in New York.

Employes of Goodyear Aircraft Corp. voted yesterday to continue working and accept whatever terms eventually are secured by the rubber workers. The approximately 4,400 Goodyear Aircraft employes are represented by the CIO United Auto Workers Union.

Streamliner Derails, 4 Killed, 53 Hurt

LOMAX, Ill. (AP) — The crack streamliner Sante Fe Chief derailed just east of Lomax yesterday en route from Chicago to Los Angeles.

Of approximately 20 passenyers, four were killed and 53 were listed as injured. Only the locomotive and a mail car of the 13-car train held the rails.

The rest zigzagged along the track, some crashing into a parallel string of refrigerator cars on another track. All remained upright except No. 9, which rolled onto its side.

It was No. 9 which contained most of the victims.

Two of the dead were identified by Henderson County Coroner Dean F. Beals as Edward S. Monty, Phelps, Wis., and Mrs. Gina Guilfi, Albuquerque, N.M.

Another woman and a man, both unidentified were killed.

At least 13 of the injured were in serious condition in hospitals in Burlington and Fort Madison, Iowa, across the Mississippi River.

Man Injured, Pinned Between Car and Door

A 35-year-old Liberty St. man was severely injured at 11:25 a.m. yesterday while working on his car when he was pinned between the vehicle door and the door frame of his garage.

According to police, Thomas D. Jordan, 1108 Liberty St., was taken to Central Clinic with several fractured ribs sustained when the car on which he was working in his garage suddenly started in motion. He is listed in fair condition.

Jordan said he was standing in the left door of the vehicle with one foot on the accelerator and the other foot on the garage floor. The automatic transmission resting in neutral was suddenly thrown into reverse, sending the car backwards and pinning him against the garage door frame.

1st Degree Murder Charge Asked For 4 'Thrill-Killers'

NEW YORK (AP)—The state today will ask a Brooklyn grand jury to indict for first-degree murder four teen-age terrorists who allegedly tortured and battered harmless people just for thrills.

Police said two of their victims were killed.

The shocking reports of the foursome's brutality brought new vigor to a police campaign already started against "undesirables." Over the weekend more than 60 persons were rounded up by police on the lookout for hoodlums and toughs.

Police also had their eyes open for any would-be imitators of the kill-for-thrill gang.

One alleged band of imitators was caught only after its victim, Joel Ewen, a 19-year-old student, stumbled into a police station with his face covered with blood. He reported he was set upon by three youths, the leader of whom yelled at his victim:

"I'm Koslow, the thrill killer."

He referred to Jack Koslow, 18, already jailed as the alleged leader of the four who police say prowled Brooklyn parks viciously beating helpless men and, in one case, horsewhipping two young girls.

Koslow is now being held for assault. His three buddies — Melvin Mittman, 17; Jerome Lieberman, 17; and Robert Trachtenberg, 15— are under indictment for homicide in the death of one of the victims.

All four are reported by police to have admitted taking part in the second death, for which the first-degree murder indictment is sought.

Koslow's attorney, Murray Cutler, said over the weekend he planned to ask Brooklyn County Court to transfer the youth from jail to Kings County Hospital for psychiatric care.

The Koslow imitators who attacked Ewen were identified by police as Anthony Ferrentino, 21, Clifton, N.J., and Frank Lyons, 20, and Eugene Mooney, 23, both of Brooklyn.

4 Persons Hurt In Road Mishaps

Highway Patrolmen Cite Two Motorists

Four persons were admitted to hospitals and two drivers were arrested as a result of three automobile accidents that occurred on highways in the Salem vicinity over the weekend.

Howard Macaulay, 52, of Youngstown and his wife, 50, are listed in fair condition in Youngstown's South Side Hospital where they were taken after their car collided with an auto driven by Jack Lanterman, 20, of RD 1, Canfield on Route 18, near North Jackson, at 4:45 p.m. yesterday.

Cited on Traffic Count

According to patrolmen, Lanterman, who was later cited for the violation, ignored a stop sign and struck the Macauley auto.

Macaulay sustained a fractured right leg, lacerations of the right hand, a possible back injury and a skull fracture. His wife suffered a possible rib fracture, a back injury and contusions of the right hand.

Two women were injured at 1:10 a.m. today when the car in which they were riding was involved in

Ike To Address Nation Tonight

To Tell Successes Of 83rd Congress

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower, who wants tighter Republican control in Washington, will tell the nation tonight why — in this election year — he likes the record of the GOP-controlled 83rd Congress.

The chief executive, vacationing here, goes on the air coast to coast for a half-hour radio and television address.

All the major TV networks will carry his talk live. So will ABC radio. The others plan to play back recordings later in the evening.

The talk is scheduled for 8 p.m., EST.

In advance of the speech, it was no secret that Eisenhower plans to plug the record of the GOP-run Congress, which completed action on its legislative program last Fri-

2,000 See Fire Demonstration In Columbiana

COLUMBIANA — A crowd of about 2,000 spectators, besides firemen, witnessed the program of gasoline fire extinguishing demonstrations in Firestone Park Saturday afternoon in connection with the 17th annual conference of the Ohio State Firemen's Association held last week in Youngstown.

Visiting firemen were guests of the Mahoning Valley Firemen's Association at a chicken-pie dinner in pavilion 4 of the park after their arrival in Columbiana shortly before noon. One-thousand chicken pies were served at the dinner.

The firemen came in busses, fire trucks and automobiles.

During the program which began at 1 p.m., truckloads of free refreshments were delivered to the crowd that filled the bleachers and the grounds. Use of extinguishers in the control of various types of fires was demonstrated by the Ohio Liquid Petroleum Gas Assn., and the Standard Oil Co. demonstrated the safety appliances with which its tank trucks are equipped.

Emphasis was on methods of control.

Canfield and Boardman departments cooperated in the demonstrations, arrangements for which had been made by the Columbiana department. During the program, a 1500-gallon civil defense pumper stationed at the lake was in continuous operation, throwing a stream back into the lake.

After the program, many of the visiting firemen were open-house guests of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Eagle's homes.

Probers Won't Call Accusers Of McCarthy As Witnesses

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen Watkins (R-Utah) said today a six-man inquiry committee has no plans to call as witnesses three senators who accused Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) of misconduct.

Watkins, who heads the bipartisan committee, said in an interview he sees no need of having Senators Flanders (R-Vt), Fulbright (D-Ark) and Morse (Ind-Ore) repeat under oath the 46 accusations they leveled against McCarthy in the Senate.

"These senators are not complaining witnesses," he said. "Their responsibility ended when they called the Senate's attention to the charges and the responsibility became the Senate's when it ordered this investigation.

"If they have any personal, firsthand knowledge of evidence they could testify to that, but all of them have indicated to me that their knowledge of the charges is based on records which are available to the committee."

McCarthy has demanded that Flanders return from a European vacation to repeat under oath the 33 charges the Vermont senator made against him in the Senate. Flanders said he will be available at the committee's call, if the group wants him.

Flanders, Fulbright and Morse charged that McCarthy's conduct — ranging from his financial operations to his alleged defiance of a Senate subcommittee and his criticism of colleagues — tends to bring the Senate into disrepute. Hearings are scheduled to begin Aug. 30 or shortly thereafter.

Mason Faces Second Charge

Cited For Driving Car Without Owner's OK

Arlan F. Mason, 34, of RD 4, Salem, driver of a vehicle involved in a three-car collision in which two people died, was arraigned before Mayor Dean B. Cranmer Saturday morning on a charge of driving a car without the owner's consent.

The car operated by Mason, collided with two other cars July 31, three miles north of Salem. Two persons riding in one of the other autos, Mrs. Francis Flick and James L. Morris, both of Salem, died as a result of injuries sustained in the crash. Four other persons were injured.

Mason pleaded not guilty to the charge and was bound over to the Columbiana County Grand Jury on a $500 bond.

On Aug. 6 he was arraigned before Mayor Lloyd Culler of Washingtonville, charged with second degree manslaughter. He pleaded not guilty and was bound over to the Mahoning County Grand Jury on a $500 bond. Immediately following the accident, Mason pleaded guilty before Mayor Culler ot a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was fined $250 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail.

The affidavit charging Mason with driving a vehicle without the owner's consent was signed by Mrs. Olive L. Spencer, Rt. 14.

Mrs. Flick died Aug. 3 in the Central Clinic; Morris died Aug. 15 at the Clinic.

Premier Flies Into Britain

Seek To Get German Troops Into Alliance

LONDON (AP) — French Premier Mendes-France flew into Britain today to confer with Prime Minister Churchill in a search for some way of getting West German troops quickly into the Western line of defense.

The dynamic French leader arrived just before noon at Biggin Hill, airfield and hurried off to talk with the veteran British statesman at Chartwell, Churchill's private estate 25 miles from London.

It was his first meeting with the veteran British statesman. Consultations were expected to last several hours. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden rushed home from his Austrian vacation to join them.

Mendes-France came staight from Brussels, where the six-nation talks on the European Defense Community broke down yesterday after four days of practically fruitless bargaining.

Winding up their conference in the Belgian capital, the foreign ministers of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg issued a communique admitting failure to agree on EDC but declaring they shared these four common political aims for Western Europe:

1. Closer European cooperation to protect West Europe from aggression.
2. The avoiding of neutralization of Germany.
3. Continued efforts to work for unification of Germany and some sort of German contribution to Allied defense.
4. Drafting of a formula to pro-

Damascus Youth Circus Nets $325 For Polio Fund Here

The Damascus "circus" benefit, Saturday afternoon netted $325 which will be turned over to the Salem polio campaign. Proceeds from the 7th annual show, which took place on the lawn at the L. L. Root home in Damascus, exceeded expectations, far surpassing the amount of money received in any other year.

Forty children worked all summer, planning and practicing for the occasion. Mothers of the children served supper to the spectators and the fathers assisted with the pony, boat and tractor rides.

Mrs. Harry Wulf headed the mother-helper Committee; Monte Root acted as master of ceremonies.

Features of the circus were: "Liberace and his brother, George," played by Susan Gray

Ike Wins 3 Of 4 Fights On Foreign Aid Measure

(First Of A Series)

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower won three of his big foreign aid battles with Congress. He lost a fourth, which may hamper severely his policies for tightening U.S. relations with Allied countries.

Here is the record

1. Foreign trade. Eisenhower's major setback. Congress balked at the President's program for lowering tariffs to encourage Allied and friendly nations to trade with the United States. Eisenhower succeeded in getting mainly a simple extension for one year of his bill to negotiate tariff-cutting trade treaties but none of the new authority he asked to lower tariffs through such treaties.

Diplomats attached great significance to the record in this issue because American foreign aid programs, aside from military, are rapidly coming to an end and other countries are worrying about where necessary dollars will be obtained.

2. Foreign aid. Congress voted a total of $2,781,000,000 for the current 12 months period—it was around 700 million dollars less than the nearly 3½ billions requested by the President.

Administration officials indicated the cuts were not crippling, however, and would not be interpreted by foreign governments as evidence that the United States was withdrawing into a shell. Other governments constantly look to congressional action for evidence as to whether the legislators are on the whole supporting the President's program of "partnership" with friendly countries. About 80 per cent of the total for foreign aid is for military purposes.

3. Atomic. The President registered possibly his greatest victory on this issue. He gained authority, although not all he asked, to transfer to America's allies in Europe secret information about the effects of atomic weapons and such information as size, weight and shape of these weapons.

Officials said this would enable the United States to bring military thinking of countries like France and Italy out of World War II concepts into the concepts of the atomic age.

The President also won authority to assist cooperating countries like Belgium, which furnishes atomic raw materials to the United States, to build up atomic industry.

4. Bricker amendment. Eisenhower won a tough fight when the Senate declined to go for the constitutional amendment put forward by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to restrict presidential powers to make international agreements.

There was a fifth great issue which never was officially presented to Congress although members spent many an hour making speeches on the subject—how to save Southeast Asia from Communist conquest.

The program of legislation turned out by Congress will have a long-range important bearing on U.S. foreign relations aside from immediate effects.

This is a period of transition in relationships with other countries.

In General the United States is cleaning up eight years of efforts to promote the economic recovery and stability of other countries. Nations like Britain and France are lack on thei feet—at least to the extent that American dollar grants can get them there. In underdeveloped countries of Asia and Africa, American policy increasingly emphasizes Point Four assistance—the relatively inexpensive program of teaching other people how to grow more food and make more goods.

For the big Western European producing countries and for Japan, the great issue now is this: Can they get from United States foreign trade, either directly or indirectly, the dollars which formerly got into international monetary channels by way of American aid?

If they cannot, must they look to Russia and Red China for a greater trade volume or is there sufficient volume among the free nations without an expanded American market?

Insofar as U.S. political policy goes, this comes down to saying that the degree of cooperation, the solidarity of the Western front against Soviet communism will stand in the long run on the foundation of the dollars and cents relationships of buying and selling. That coviction is held in the State Department from top to bottom. It has been reflected from time to time in President Eisenhower's calls for a greater volume of foreign trade.

Foreign governments realize that Congress holds the key to this. What Congress did in the present session will therefore have a far-reaching influence on the plans of Allied and friendly nations.

In the first year of his administration, Eisenhower asked and received from Congress a one-year extension of the reciprocal trade agreements program. Looking to the future, he appointed a special commission headed by industrialist Clarence Randall to study the whole problem of foreign trade.

This year, the President took the commission's majority report as a basis for recommendations to Congress aimed at expanding trade.

House leaders resisted and, in the end, the President obtained instead another one-year extension of the trade act. It meant little beyond keeping alive he principle of reducing tariffs by getting reciproca cuts in tariffs of other countries As a practical matter, the President's authority to make cuts at home has been practically exhausted through the conclusion of agreements in earlier years.

The President also obtained a modified version of legislation he had asked for simplification of U.S. customs procedures—something that has exercised foreign businessmen and governments for years. But again Congress wrote in requirements which the administration regarded merely as slowing down the whole simplification process.

FROM VIET NAM — Tran Van Chuong is new Viet Nam ambassador to the U. S. President Eisenhower promised him additional assistance to help his country toward solution of "the difficult problems of peace."

Parking Receipts Increase This Year

Parking meter receipts for the first seven months of this year have increased an average of more than $400 a month, as compared with returns from last year, City Auditor Helen R. Coyne reports.

The meters netted a total of $18,259.62 in 1953 for an average of $1,521.64 a month. From Jan. 1 to July 31 of this year the meter returns have been $13,729.79, or an average of $1,961.40 per month.

June of this year recorded the largest amount of receipts with $2,405.53, while January was the lowest with $999.55.

Receipts for the other months were: February, $1,810.89; March, $2,124.02; April, $2,382.12; May, $1,933.38 and July, $2,074.30.

A separate breakdown of returns from the municipal parking lot was not made available by the auditor.

Hot Weather Riots Flare In Stockholm; 32 Held

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Stockholm's perennial hot weather riots flared again yesterday with the usual busted noggins as thrill seekers let off steam. Police, as in past outbreaks, rounded up prostitutes, hoodlums and other veteran trouble makers.

Several persons were painfully injured. One man was tossed through a show window into an art gallery and was rushed to a hospital with a slashed artery. A policeman who tried to help him into an ambulance had his jaw busted by a group of hoodlums.

Police arrested 32 persons, including one prostitute who ran through the streets disrobing as authorities tried to haul her into a car.

Prostitutes have been blamed for touching off most of the midsummer riots, but everyone seems agreed that the crowds join in just for the thrills.

Police Nab Fugitives Who Slept On Job

CINCINNATI, (AP) — Cincinnati police have captured two Kentucky fugitives they say forced a motorist at knifepoint to drive them from Lexington, Ky., then fell aslep on the job.

They said William Campbell, 29, and Edford Burton Jr., 24 of Bulan, Ky., along with six other men, sawed their way out of Hazard, Ky., jail Thursday. They had been charged with housebreaking.

Near Lexington the pair hailed a car driven by Lucien Phillips, 41, a truck driver living in that vicinity, rode to Lexington, then made Phillips continue driving to Covington, Ky.

When both men fell asleep — Burton with knife in hand — Phillips drove across the Ohio River to a brother's house in Cincinnati and telephoned police.

The two men — awakened by patrolmen — promptly went back to sleep when placed in cells at Central Police Station here yesterday.

Ike Picks Nixon For Campaign

To Visit Most Of States This Fall

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has assigned Vice President Nixon to campaign for Republican Senate and governor candidates in a series of tours which will take him into about two thirds of the states before the November election.

Eisenhower himself will keynote the campaign tonight with a half-hour radio-television review of the record of Congress from Denver.

The speech is scheduled for 8 p.m., EST.

While the President plans visits to several states, he apparently is counting on Nixon as a stand-in for the kind of openly political campaigning he himself doesn't like to undertake.

Nixon, on a 10-day vacation in Maine, will assay the political situation in conferences with indivdual members of the Republican National Committee in a three-day workshop session at Cincinnati from Aug. 30 through Sept. 1.

Eisenhower and Nixon apparently won't waste any time campaigning in the South. Eisenhower has said he has no plans to speak in Dixie. Nixon will invade Kentucky and possibly some other border states but will go no farther south.

Nixon, who discussed campaign plans with the President at a White House breakfast before Eisenhower left for Denver, is expected to follow closely the theme the President sets in tonight's address.

JUDGE GETS HUG FROM NEW CITIZEN—Federal Judge W. H. Atwell got a big hug in Dallas, Texas from a new citizen of the United States—seven-year-old Frank Robert Croft. The youngster, a native of Germany adopted three years ago by a Texas couple, committed a near bobble during his naturalization hearing when he couldn't quite recall how many stars there are in the U. S. flag. But a moment later he gave the 85-year-old judge the correct number and sailed into citizenship.

You get a 3-way bonus in the car that's soaring to new success

WHAT has happened in the automobile business this year is something that you should take to heart – as a personal benefit to yourself, and as a sure way to pick a winner.

It is simply this: Buick has moved into the charmed circle of America's three top sales leaders – a circle once dominated only by the so-called "low-price three."

In plainer words–Buick today is outselling all other cars in America except two of these so-called "low-price three." And this has come about because of Buick's advanced year-ahead styling, great V8 power, big-car room and comfort – all for prices starting right close to the lowest. So you reap a worth-while 3-way benefit.

1. You get the look of tomorrow – today

In Buick today you get the modern styling other cars will reach in the future. For here you get true year-ahead beauty – long, low glamor lines, sports-car grace, and that spectacular new panoramic windshield that most other cars won't have till 1955.

2. You get the bigger allowance of our volume business

The tremendous sales volume that has brought Buick into the leadership circle of the "Big Three" means that we can offer you a higher trade-in allowance on your present car when you buy a new Buick. That's the simple reason why we can make you a better deal right now.

3. You get more resale dollars when you trade

With Buick so advanced in style this year it's a sure thing Buick will stay in style for years to come, as other cars catch up. So the new Buick you buy today brings you a higher resale price at trade-in time later. Drop in – see and drive this tomorrow-styled Buick – and get in on Buick's Big 3-way bonus right now.

Now's the time to make your buy because —

Buick Sales are Soaring!

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

Basic Reform

A sensational financial reform proposed by Sen. Bridges of N. Hampshire with the backing of Sen. Byrd of Virginia would force Congress to do these things:

1. Collect enough money through taxes to pay expenses.

2. Reduce taxes only after reducing expenditures, because it makes no sense to cut taxes then borrow money to cover deficits.

3. Forget about new spending programs until the federal government shows a budget surplus.

4. Consolidate all appropriation bills into one, but give the chief executive authority to veto single items in the master bill.

5. Hold the existing debt ceiling at 275 billion dollars.

6. Amend the Constitution, if necessary, to stop deficit financing except in wartime and national emergencies.

A proposal like this one puts into perspective the most confusing problem of popular government — how to keep its public officials from yielding to pressure for an ever larger amount of public spending.

This was the most vulnerable spot in American government when it was founded — and continues to be. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was president during the era when federal spending rose from less than 5 billion a year to more than 98 billion at the climax of World War II, warned about wrecking the ship of state "on the rocks of a loose fiscal policy."

The basic reform urged by Sen. Bridges and Sen. Byrd will get slight attention. But by hindsight it could prove to be the most eminently sensible proposal made during the second session of the 83rd Congress.

The Big One

The key proposal in the Eisenhower administration's legislative program this year was the tax bill the first major reform in federal taxation undertaken since the beginning of the big-spending era. When all other proposals, bills and laws of 1954 have been forgotten, the Eisenhower tax reform will still be remembered. It is historic.

If Americans are lucky—and if they keep an eye on what their congressmen are doing in the years to come—the reform will be the beginning of a new concept of federal taxation and the end of a concept that came into fashion under the New Deal and Fair Deal.

The new concept holds that the purpose of federal taxation is to raise revenue while protecting all the sources of wealth that make revenue-raising possible. The old concept held that the purpose of federal taxation is to heckle the sources of wealth while raising revenue to keep the hecklers securely in public office.

Under the old concept, the federal government operated on a spend-and-elect basis. Under the new concept, the federal government would operate on a conserve-and-elect basis. The Eisenhower administration hopes this may prove to have a powerful political attraction but is well aware of the shrewd use of the previous formula by the political coalition that elected Franklin Roosevelt to the president four times and clinched that record-breaking performance with Harry Truman.

This is why the tax bill is the key to the Eisenhower legislative program; it is the essence of the new concept of government—a concept that says government shpild help to create and conserve wealth in private hands.

Garrison Strategy

The Defense Department's withdrawal of four divisions from Korea will leave a garrison strength of two divisions in that country. This will constitute what militarists call a "calculated risk."

The entire principle of international security based on garrisons is a calculated risk. Since this is shaping up as the main relaince of United States strategy, it needs to be understood.

The United States cannot go to war on its own initiative. It cannot strike the first blow. Its security depends on its ability to counter-punch quickly and effectually after an adversary strikes the first blow.

It is considered unlikely the invader will reopen an attack in Korea. Thus, a garrison of several divisions backed up by Korean troops would be adequate. Meanwhile, the strategy of the United States in the Asian area will call for preparations to offset the next overt move of the Communist bloc.

This is likely o be aimed at Formosa. If not Formosa, then Thailand may be the next scene of action. Wherever it happens, the United States must be ready to counter-punch.

American troops will be garrisoned wherever trouble seems likely to break out. Wherever possible, as in Japan, Korea, Formosa and Germany, they will be backed up by local military strength. They will derive mobility from the U.S. Navy and Air Force.

Rough Treatment

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Probe Of Tax-Free Foundations Gets Bad Press

The House Committee on Tax-Exempt Foundations, headed by B. Carroll Reece of Tennessee has had an exceedingly bad press, especially in some New York and Washington papers. The New York Times has been especially vehement.

I do not know how much care and research the editorialist on The New York Times devoted to this subject. But I submit that it seemed important enough to me to read the entire hearings of the commitee from March to June, to talk at length with the capable chief counsel, Rene Wormser of New York, and to read every word of the hearings of the 1952 Cox committee on the same subject.

I might add that some time ago I served for four years as the executive director of a foundation and have, in the years since, carefully followed the activities of the major foundations, especially in the field of social science.

ON THE BASIS of this preparation I should like to comment seriously upon the four major points made by The New York Times and other critics.

Those criticisms were that witnesses in the public hearings made frivolous and unfair charges against some foundations, that the foundations were denied the right to answer those charges in public hearings, that the Cox committee in 1952 covered the subject adequately, and, by implication at least, that the Congress should not have instituted such an inquiry.

Of the many charges that some witnesses made against foundations some may well be irrevelent and impossible of substantiation. It is true also that some witnesses were most responsible people and made legitimate and serious criticisms of some foundation activities.

The hearings were terminated because Wayne Hays, a minority member, made orderly procedure impossible. In practically every session he interrupted scores of times with irrelevant speeches and insulting comments about witnesses and members of the committee. From time to time when called to order by the chairman he would threaten to terminate the hearings by walking out.

Reece was unable to maintain a quorum in such instances because of the almost continuous non-attendance of his two Republican colleagues. This behavior by Hays was, so far as I know, without a parallel in congressional hearings. But it was designated editorially by The New York Times as a "heroic" effort "to inject sanity and fairness into the committee's activities."

THE COX COMMITTEE barely scratched the surface of the subject. Its hearings were held in November and December, 1952, when Eugene Cox was a dying man. After his death the day before Christmas, a hurried report was written which was wholly without substance.

Since a foundation of the sort within the scope of this committee's inquiry enjoys a tax exemption, the money it spends is for the most part public money. Every dollar of its exemption must be made up for by the generality of taxpayers. The public is entitled to periodic accounting of how this money is being spent.

The Reece committee has estimated that there are about 7,000 foundations in the United States, with assets of about 7.5 billion dollars.

This power is an immense and to a large degree a decisive influence in the whole field of higher education. It also reaches into the lower schools and into practically all private welfare activities.

Most of this vast influence has been good. The Rockefeller Foundation, to cite only one example, particularly in its earlier and major work in medical research and education and in public health, has been a mighty force.

IT HAS BEN in the field of the so-called social sciences and modernized education that most of the mistakes of foundations have been made. For it is easy in such fields of human knowledge, where there are no truly scientific standards for guidance, to slip into unwholesome propaganda and political activities.

Other undesirable features have appeared. Some foundations have been mere tax-dodging affairs. Some have been narrowly conceived and dedicated to strange and useless ends.

Congress has a duty to check the operation of the tax - exemptions which it has granted and also to provide legislation to guide the Treasury.

The Reece committee, or rather a majority thereof, can well dispel much of the misapprehension created by its critics by producing a judicious and constructive report based upon the best that the public hearings produced and upon the written statements of the foundations themselves.

Guinea Pig Village

By NORMAN LINDHURST

BONN — The West German government has built a "guinea pig" village to get new ideas for its vast new housing program.

The Housing Ministry put up 28 little homes at Holzkirchen in Bavaria, each on about 200 square feet of ground. Outwardly, they are as identical as peas. Closer inspection, however, reveals each one built in a different way, with different construction materials.

All of them are exposed to the Bavarian climate, which is known in that part of the state for its excessive humidity, cold and occasionally heat.

ALL HOUSES are artificially "inhabited." All are heated by the same number of kilowatt hours and receive the same amount of fresh air through ventilators. The walls are dampened by the same amount of steam.

Periodically, bits of wall are scraped off and drilled out for scientific examination. Explains the Bonn government:

"Millions of public money continue to be spent for houses that are not as hygienic or as economical as they might be and which do not offer maximum protection against dampness, cold, heat, noise and vibration.

"To the extent that these insufficiencies cause illness, public health spends additional millions to cure the sick. Much of the fuel burned in houses inadequately equipped goes "up the flue" in the most literal sense of the phrase.

"IN SHORT, 'cheap' construction often costs many times the original expenditure."

The little village makes an almost uncanny impression. None of the usual sounds of inhabited buildings emanate. From the empty houses there is only a soft swish of steam to be heard and the audible hum of electric heaters below the windows.

Why must the houses be artificially inhabited? Why couldn't a few families actually live in them?

The answer is simple: only if identical conditions exist in all the houses can the quality of various materials be compared.

One tenant might develop photographs in the bathroom, another might heat the living room to 80 degrees Fahrenheit and yet a third might let a pot boil for half an hour.

RESEARCH RESULTS are beginning to pile up at Holzkitchen. It has been visited by a delegation from the Organization for European Economic Cooperation (OEEC). Final conclusions will be put at the disposal of all European countries.

Building houses is a major business of the West German government and, with typical German thoroughness, the Bonn government is setting out to make certain it gets the most for its money from the new housing.

West Germany built 450,000 housing units last year, and experts calculate at least 2,000,000 more units are urgently required. At the "guinea pig" village the government is attempting to make certain that the German taxpayer gets the most for his money.

Hermann Reiher, head of a technical institute at Stuttgart, suggested the "construction experiment Holzkitchen."

His idea was immediately supported by the Housing Ministry, by various public authorities concerned with building, by the entire construction industry, by the Robert Koch Institute at Berlin nd by the Stuttgar Insitue for Surface Finishings.

Just for the fun of it, get out that old seed catalog and see how your garden vegetables should have looked.

Sorta Pathetic, Isn't It?

The National Anthem

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The British open every public assembly, meeting, theatrical performance, concert, or any other gathering with "God Save the Queen!" and it is considered proper and fitting. So this summer, I thought I would do a bit of agitating concert - goers at Tanglewood to make it customary to start all concerts with "The Star Spangled Banner."

Sokolsky

I once heard Sir Thomas Beecham conduct "The Star Spangled Banner" in 'Carnegie Hall with a verve and fervor to which Americans are hardly accustomed. It almost sounded that he meant:

"Oh, thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and the wars desolation!

At any rate, there were some like-minded ladies who agreed and we talked the thing up. They liked the idea of an agitation over "The Star Spangled Banner.'

MY FIRST experience was a blank stare. Perhaps the person thought that I had said the "Internationale" instead of Americas national anthem. We listen to Prokofiev and Khatchaturian but "The Star Spangled Banner' — "Well, I don't know," he said, "it raises an issue." What issue was not explained, but it was something controversial.

Then one of my lady friends came back with the report that she had encountered direct opposition. She had been told that it could not be done because it is so dull.

I could not make out whether what was meant was that the tune is dull or that having a national anthem is dull. Of course, some of our friends are becoming so sophisticated that anything less than the universe is too small and dull for them.

Well, on "Tanglewood on Parade.' which is a gala fiesta in the Berkshires, where anything musical can happen, Arthur Fieder appeared with the "Boston Pops Orchestra' which plays whatever comes to hand, and Fiedler opened his program with Sousas "The Stars and Stripes Forever," and the enormous audience let out a thunder of applause with cheers and gravos and it did their hearts good.

MAYBE NOBODY will ask Fiedler to come again because he introduced a patriotic note, but the audience loved it.

True, we had gone in plentifully for Berlioz and we always have Mozart, Haydn, Beethoven and Brahms, but a little baked beans and apple pie go far in New England and the New Yorkers who fill the seats and throw their blankets on the lawn are of a generation that can listen to Berliozs "Requiem" and enjoy good jazz in their young lives without too much shock.

It is like being right wing or left wing in politics, but in the middle, it is like something by Hindemith, which, if you like it, you can have it. And I fear that the young prefer the romanticists and the jazz-writers but not the discordant moderns who drown them in orchestration without joy or sorrow.

I recently recounted the wonders of this years concerts at Tanglewood, the best in many years, and the most favorable response to the revival of Berlioz, who will undoubtedly become fashionable again, to Alexis Lichine, the French wine merchant who remarked that perhaps this improving taste in music wil be reflected in an improving taste in food and liquor.

IT IS A BIT astonishing that young people can steep themselves deeply in good music on a fare of bland frankfurters and greasy hamburgers downed with a cola drink. Perhaps to them it will be neither dull nor incongruous to start a concert with a reminder that the United States is a nation.

So now that we have had the invasion of the sacred precincts of Tanglewood by "The Stars and Stripes Forever," perhaps it will not be amiss to begin the concerts or even the first concert with "The Star Spangled Banner," and it might even be possible to have some outstanding soprano sing it. And this rule could be made to apply to all concerts, baseball games, football games, etc.

Occasionally one hears a compromise. "America the Beautiful," or "God Bless America" is played to permit a patriotic note, yet avoiding the national anthem.

Perhaps "The Star Spangled Banner' is feared lest it stimulate nationalism, thus giving offense to the Indians or the Arab bloc or even, God save the mark, the Soviet Universal State.

We must be so careful, you know, lest we offend the foreigners or they will refuse to take our tainted money.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Chronic Postnasal Drip Is Not Harmful

In winter, particularly, large numbers of people complain of excessive mucus in the nose with dripping back in the throat, causing coughing and spitting. Some people call this condition catarrh; it was formerly known as defluxation or rheum.

Dr. Jordan

Today doctors usually speak of it as "postnasal drip" or rhinitis, but these names better than the old ones.

No matter how named, this certainly is a disagreeable condition. The irritating effects of this mucus result in constant nose blowing, sneezing, clearing of the throat, and bring up of small quantities of mucus with a cough.

Apparantly, many different conditions are at least partly to blame. Excessive dampness is undoubtedly a factor in many cases.

Other things which have been blamed are smoking, central heating, dust, irritating fumes, germs, rapid changes in external temperatures of the air, foreign bodies, emotional disturbances and abnormalities in the structure of the nose or sinuses.

Central heating, which causes extremely dry rooms, combined with excessive moisture in the air outside, must be an irritating factor to many people.

The dryness of centrally heated houses or rooms causes increased evaporation of moisture from the nasal passages which thickens the mucus and makes the normal proces of its removal less satisfactory.

Some ask whether swallowing the nasal secretions will harm the stomach. So far as is known of the nature of the mucus and the ability of people's stomach to handle it, most people do not suffer.

The danger to the lower part of the breathing apparatus is ordinarily slight unless mucus causes such constant coughing as to overstrain the breathing tubes or bronchi, and the lungs.

A chronic postnasal drop of mucus is ordinarily harmless, although annoying. It is the result of one or more irritations which can be overcome only by removing the cause or causes which is often impossible without a complete change of residence. A postnasal drip alone is hardly enough to make that necessary.

Social Gains

Amid the turmoil of the congressional stretch drive, the Senate put its approval on a bill considerably expanding and improving the nation's social security system. The measure is a cornerstone of President Eisenhower's legislative program for 1954.

The more than 6,300,000 people now drawing benefits would get at least $5 more a month. Maximum monthly benefits for families retired or retiring in the future would be lifted from the present $168.75 to $200. And retired persons would be allowed to earn more than they now can and still draw payments.

Time was when a program of this sort would arouse bitter partisan controversy, but not any more. The bill passed the Senate by voice vote late one night. The Republicans said nothing about socialism, and the Democrats merely wished the proposals went still further.

In this area, clearly, the President made good his promise not to disturb but to advance the "social gains."

We can put in at least one good word for the bore — he doesn't talk about other people.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Shore Dinners

This is the height of the shore-dinner season. The shore dinner was invented by a man who decided the test of a meal was the number of dishes, platters, bowls and tools involved. He thought the more it rattled, the better it was. It originated back in the colonial days when banking connections were not necessary to get a five-or six-course "feed" and when every restaurant man thought the customers were hungry. Not so many years ago a shore dinner ran from $1.25 to $3 top. It took longer to read the menu than "Gone With the Wind."

It began with chowder, led into steamed clams, detoured through the bluefish, stopped for a slab of chicken, went straight on into a boiled lobster and made detours for corn on the cob, potatoes, salads, apple pie a la mode and coffee. Some places threw in a soft-shelled crab and a beer.

The customers judged the dinner by the number of trips it took a waiter to make complete deliveries. To get a job as a waiter a man had to have won a ribbon in a bunion derby and honorable mention in a circus strong man act. A customer started dinner around 6 P.M. and corssed the finish line around 9, eating hurriedly. He was assisted from the table by a derrick and spent the night among nightmares featuring marauding Indians, leprechauns, witches, cauldrons and romances with the Queen of Sheba.

Today the shore dinner is a shell of its old self and you are charged extra for the shell. You pay more for the clams than you used to pay for the whole works.

The survival of the clam down through history is a wonderful thing, when you consider that it neither looks good nor tastes good. A clam is a locket with sand inside. It is an old-fashioned dollar watch with the works removed and crushed stone substituted.

There is something about a clam that resembles and tastes like the eraser on nickel lead pencils or the plugs they used to mend bicycle tires with.

The top feature of a shore dinner is the lobster. A lobster is a fish in a suit of armor. It is especially popular in New England and along the Eastern Seaboard where the native will not take "No" for an answer and are by instinct rugged with a napkin around their necks.

We prefer ours boiled. It is the fashion to broil them a practice which enables a chef to stuff a lobster so that the flavor of the meat is destroyed, and to burn it so that there can be no doubt that in a battle between a lobster and a fire the flames are always the victors.

A boiled obster is pretty tasty. But if we had to work as hard to get meat from a cow or sheep we would be a vegetarian. Waiter, no coffee; just bicarb.

A world council of churches in Illinois equipped all the preachers with "hearing head sets" so they could all follow what was said. We wish the clergy would show a little similar concern for congregations. It's amazing how many churches not only still lack a microphone in the pulpit and have preachers who deliver sermons as if in strict confidence, this leaving the worshippers completely in the dark. We have noticed that many members of the congregations don't seem to mind missing a sermon, but we think this highly unfortunate and hold to the old-fashioned belief that a sermon should be heard and that there should be moments when the preacher's words are ear-splitting.

Saudi Arabia has notified the U. S. that it will not accept any more financial aid. A decision lke this could leave Uncle Sam in a deep faint for weeks.

The recent news about the Studebaker auto plant's settlement of disputes with its workers brings to mind that Studebaker got its start and its fame making wagons and buggies. In our boyhood the name was on most every farm wagon, grocery cart and surrey with the fringe on top.

New Paint Will Reduce Building Temperature

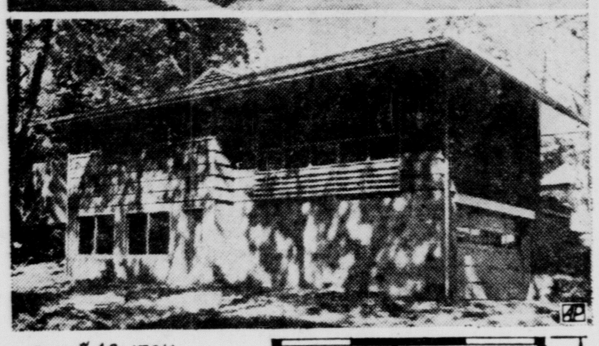

Development of a new heat-reflecting paint, which will lower temperatures as much as 45 degrees when applied to steel or galvanised steel roofs, has been reporterr in a recent issued of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry.

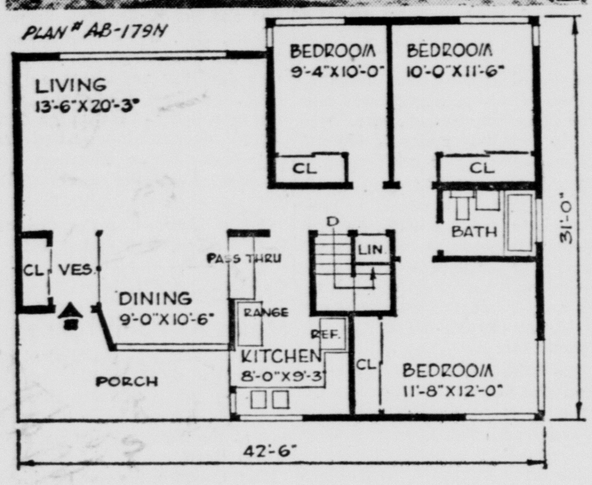

DON'T PAINT LADDERS

Never paint a ladder. Paint can conceal defects in the ladder which might be visible through a transparent coating. Use shellac, varnish or two coats of linseed oil. Additional protection can be had by first treating the raw wood with a rot preventive — copper naphthenate or chlorinated phenol.

Equal quantities of butter or margarine and honey, when creamtd together, make a delicious spread for toast, waffles or pancakes.

ONE STORY on the front and two stories on the rear, this house is planned to fit a hillside. The lower level provides for a two-car garage, a recreation room and a room for laundry and storage. Exterior is concrete block below, shingle siding above and a roof of asphalt shingles. The house covers 1,150 square feet. Plan AB-179N, it was designed by Bob Burns of Des Moines, Iowa, for the American Builder Home Plan Service, 79 West Monroe St., Chicago 3, Ill.

It's Easy, Cheap To Install Yard Full Of Plastic Grass Sprinklers Under Lawn's Sod

Ever get tired of sprinkling your lawn and wish you had one of those golf course sprinkler systems fed from an underground pipes? Well, it's simpler and cheaper to install a yard full of such fountains than we ever imagined. You can do it with flexible plastic pipeslaid just under the sod and even in northern cimates you have no worry about freezing.

Hardware stores and garden supply houses are beginning to display kits of plastic piping 63 feet long with six sprinkler heads and all needed couplings and stainless steel clamps for connections. The setup is supposed to be adequate for an area of 1,000 to 1 750 square feet, depending on local pressure, and the complete price is just under $60.

Dig up your sod about four inches deep, la. the sprinkler system and put the sod down again. That's about all there is to it.

The reason you don't have to worry about freezing is that plastic pipe has a greater expansion than ice. Of course the sprinkler heads are metal and could burst if frozen. So there's a drain unit in the kit. But complete drainage is not so important as it would be with metal piping.

Four inches is enough for depth, heads at ground level where they will not interfere with lawn mowing. A screw driver and a spade are all you need to work with.

The pastic pipe, developed by the Republic Steel Corp., is used by various manufacturers for lawn sprinkling systems as well as other purposes. The material is so light that a man can easily carry 400 feet of the stuff.

SO MANY PEOPLE other than movie stars are intersted in backyard swimming pools that our mail has been heavy since we mentioned this subject. One letter you'll want to read over our shoulder is from Harrison Todd, the veteran waterproofer of Sacramento, Calif. He says the 20 by 40-foot pool we described would hold 154 tons of water.

"If the structure is not strong enough," says Mr. Todd, "there will be breaks and leaks that cannot be waterproofed. When I am called to waterproof a swimming pool, I run.

"I have found that the expansion joints mentioned by the Portland Cement Assn., are not necessary. In winter there is little expansion and when the pool is full of water there is practically no expansion or contraction.

"A new method of building pools does away with the use of forms and form lumber. The walls and floor are smoothly dug. The steel reinforcement is placed and then a gunite process is used, spraying the concrete in place. Ony sand and water are used in the mix, but the gunite process puts it in place with such pressure that the concrete is of equal or greater strength than if rock is added as an aggregate."

A NEW PRODUCT that came to our attention this week is a self-adhering rubber tile, which needs no messy adhesive. It works like an emergency bandage. You peel off a protective under covering, put the tile in place over practically any type of subfloor (the smoother the bette for long wear) and there it sticks. The only preparation called for is to swab the floor with a solvent, such as mineral spirits or carbon tetrachoride, which reactivates the adhesive gum on the back of the tile.

Permits Include Commercial, Residential Construction Here

Eight building permits, issued last week by the city, more than doubled the number issued for the first two weeks of the month. The collective cost is $85,700.

Six permits issued for the first two weeks of August were for a total estimated cost of $15,975.

Of the eight permits, half were issued for new buildings with an estimated cost of $67,000 and the other four for remodeling estimated to cost a total of $18,700.

A permit was issued to Karl and Emma Bonfert for the construction of a concrete block service station (Sunoco) to be erected at 209 S. Lincoln Ave. at an estimated cost of $18,000.

Three permits were obtained for the building of new homes. One was issued to John Colian for a four-room brick house at 565 Jefferson Ave. at an estimated cost of $9,000 while Dr. Joseph J. Hurray received a permit to construct a $20,000 ranch-style house at 770 N. Union Ave. J. Floyd Bower was issued a permit to build a ranch-style house on Highland Ave. for an estimated cost fo $20,000.

Permits were issued for remodeling and additions to:

M. L. Hans for a $15,750 addition to the Ohio Edison Co. sub-station building on S. Ellsworth; Arthur and Mary Barton, remodeling of a garage at 415 S. Broadway, $250; Robert B. and Ester M. Schaefer, aluminium siding for a house at 988 S. Union, $1,200 and Leo J. Beall, to remodel a kitchen at 338 W. 7th St., $1,500.

Add A Room To Your House By Screening In Porch

Roofed-over patios are convenient additions to today's homes—up to a point. That point is reached at about the time that flies or mosquitos invade while you're enjoying a meal under the roof.

To carry a patio's convenience beyond that point, and in fact add another room for summer living, it's easier than you might think to convert to a screened-in porch. The screening not only is a barrier to insects, but it also affords a bit more privacy.

For the addition of screens, most porches need little or no additional supporting material, according to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association. A rather common type of porch has a roof supported by two 4 x 4-inch corner posts. Only a few vertical studs are needed to which to attach the screening.

The home craftsman should take advantage of the structural members already in place, first checking to make sure they are in good condition. Floors, sills and posts should be gone over carefully. Any necessary repair work should be done before the screening is begun.

Then a 2x4 inch plate is nailed to the floor directly beneath the roof beam. The plate should extend all around the outer edge of the porch, except for the door opening.

If the porch has a wooden deck, the plate is nailed through the deck into the ground sill. If the porch has a concrete deck, a star drill is usel to make holes in the concrete for expansion bolts. Corresponding holes must then be drilled in the 2x4 plate so that the bolts will secure plate to concrete.

Vertical studs, also 2x4s, are framed to the plate and to the roof beam. The number of studs and space between them will depend to some extent upon he size of the porch and posiion of roof posts already in place.

In determining the spacing of the studs, also remember the standard screening widths are 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 36, 42 and 48 inches. Plastic screening comes in 60-inch widths, as well.

If ready-made screens are to be purchased for the job, check with your supplier to learn the sizes available before starting the job.

For most porches it is desirable to have the lower portion built up with siding material. In this case a 1x6 inch horizontal sill should be notched to fit around studs and nailed to a 2x4 inch block fastened to each stud. Sill should be 30 slope to the outside. Top row of siding should butt against sill.

Screen frames may be hung on screen fasteners in the openings

Bogdan-Copacia Ceremony Is Held In Church At Akron

Lake Placid and Bear Mountain in New York state are the honeymoon destination of Leo S. Copacia Jr., and his bride, the former Mary Bogdan.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bogdan of Akron and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo S. Copacia Sr. of S. Ellsworth Ave., exchanged vows and rings in the double ring service performed by Rev. Stefan Lucaciu Saturday at 3.

Bouquets of white gladioli and palms added beauty to the sanctuary of the Romanian Orthodox Church in Akron where many friends and relatives of the bridegroom, and the bride, assembled to witness the nuptials.

Miss Dolores Buta of Salem was soloist, singing "Because" "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Esther Odoran of Salem presided at the organ, heralding the bridal party with the traditional marches.

A crown of rhinestones and pearls held the bride's fingertip veil in place, and iridescent sequin embroidery enhanced the bodice of her handclipped Rosepoint lace and satin gown. The neckline was finished with a lace mandarin collar and the lace pattern was repeated in the sleeves and in the tiered back paneling of the skirt which ended in a full train.

The bouquet of white gadioli and stephanotis, carried by the bride, was centered with a white orchid.

As matron of honor, Mrs. Gene Barb of Akron, was gowned in coral chiffon fashioned in waltz length, and the bridesmaids, Miss Helen Dora Copacia of Salem, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Helen Pultea of Akron, and Miss Dolores Buta of Salem, wore gowns of peacock blue.

All the gowns were patterned after that of Mrs. Barb's. Each girl carried gladioli dyed to match the color of her gown.

Gene Barb of Akron was best man. Ushers were Ray Damian, cousin of the bride, George Tomi and Lionel Balaj of Akron, Nick Popa of Cleveland, and Franklin Copacia of Salem, brother of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bogdan chose a dress of blue lace with white accessories. Mrs. Copacia wore a matching lace hat with her pink lace dress. Both mothers complemented their costumes with orchid corsages.

600 At Reception.

St. John's Hall in Akron was the scene of the reception where 600 friends and relatives congratulated the newlyweds. A five-tiered wedding cake was served guests from Salem, Kent, Youngstown, Alliance, Cleveland, Sharon and Pittsburgh, Detroit, New York City and Florida.

When Mrs. Copacia left with her husband on their trip she wore a light gray faille suit, black accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

A graduate of Buchtel High School in Akron, the bride was employed as secretary for the Sid Richardson Carbon Co. there.

Mr. Copacia was graduated from New York Military Academy and attended Stauton Preparatory School and Ohio State University. He is now a corporal in the U.S. Marine Corps, stationed at Camp Lejeune, N.C., near where he and his bride will reside.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dougherty and son, Ross and daughter, Arlene, have returned to Sarnia, Ontario, Canada, after a week's visit here with their sisters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Milligan.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rhodes of Maple St., have returned from a motor trip to Noth Carolina, where they visited relatives. While they were gone Mrs. Rose Barley of Cleveland, formerly of Salem, stayed with Mrs. Rhodes' mother, Mrs. George Harris.

Just returned from a trip which included the New England states, Augusta, Me., and Sturbridge Village, Mass., are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sponseller of E. 4th St.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor of West Palm Beach, Fla., are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Burrows Jones of E. 10th St.

Feted On Birthday

To help her daughter, Sandy Lee, celebrate her ninth birthday, Mrs. Richard Liebhart entertained 14 of Sandy's friends at a birthday party and wiener roast Thursday evening at their home on the Lisbon Road.

Games with prizes for the winners were enjoyed by all the guests, and Sandy received many gifts.

Mrs. Edwin Dangler and Mrs. William Birch helped Mrs. Liebhart serve refreshments. The beautifully decorated birthday cake served was baked by the honoree's mother.

Carolyn Brungard Is Bride At Columbiana Of C. L. Baker

Music of harp and organ added to the solemnity of the wedding of Miss Carolyn Brungard and Clarence L. Baker which occurred Saturday at 7 o'clock in the sanctuary of the Columbiana Presbyterian Church.

Rev. H. J. Scheidemantle read the double ring service for the marriage of the daughter of Mrs. R. E. Brungard of Columbiana, and the late Dr. Brungard, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baker of Mineral Ridge.

L. A. Shaeffer gave his granddaughter in marriage at the candlelighted altar where palms and beauty baskets of flowers were used.

In her recital Rachel Esterly sang, "Because," "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer" Mrs. George Herrman's harp numbers were "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "I Love You Truly." With Mrs. Herrman at the harp, and Mrs. R. J. Barrow at the organ, their combination included "To a Wild Rose," "Ave Maria" and "The Harp of St. Cecilia."

The blonde bride wore a gown of white nylon tulle, designed with a Chantily lace apron effect in front and full skirt ending in a brush train. Pearls complemented the scoop neckline of the gown and the sleeves were long and pointed at the wrist. A lace cap embroidered with pearls held her veil in place. She carried a colonial bouquet combining a white orchid with ivy and satin streamers.

Mrs. Fred H. Brown came from Miami, Fla., to be matron of honor at her sisters wedding which was carried out in an all-white theme. Gowned in a strapess white tulle ballerina gown Mrs. Brown wore matching stole and carried pastle-shaded flowers in her colonial bouquet.

Sharen Brown and Linda Baker, nieces of the couple were flower girls in white nylon, over pale pink taffeta. They wore matching hats, and rose petals filled their baskettes.

Howard Baker was his brother's best man and another brother, Wilson Baker was an usher along with Fred Brown of Miami and Gerald Garrity of Mineral Ridge.

Mrs. Brungard, in grey taffeta and Mrs. Baker in blue lace, used pink accessories and wore corsages of pink camellias.

Westminster Hall, in the church, was the reception setting where the newlyweds welcomed 150 guests. The bride and bridegroom cut the four-tiered wedding cake served the guests. Hostesses were Misses Jane and Joan Zimmerman, Mrs. Fred Koch, and Judy Baker of Mineral Ridge, niece of the bridegroom.

When Mr. Baker and his bride left for their honeymoon to New York City and the New England States she wore a brown jacket dress with tan accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. On their return next Sunday they will reside at 230 W. Park Ave., in Columbiana.

The bridegroom, a carpenter, is employed by the G. F. Howard Construction Co. He spent two years in the army, with 14 months duty in Germany.

The bride attended Kent State University where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority. She is employed by the Columbiana Union Banking Co.

"We just couldn't have had our picnic without the telephone..."

Those spur-of-the-moment parties that are so much fun at home or at the park are easy to arrange by telephone. A few calls invite the guests and the menu takes shape quickly when each one brings along a favorite dish. In dozens of ways your telephone saves time for more summer fun and leisure. It gets things done quickly and pleasantly. Practically everyone (84 per cent of all families in Ohio Bell territory have telephone service) relies on the convenience of the telephone in modern living. And its low cost—less than one cent an hour—makes it the biggest bargain in the family budget.

CD Group To Be Fingerprinted; Have Photos Taken Wednesday

COLUMBIANA — Anthony Sebastian of the Youngstown civil defense organization will be at Columbiana City Hall at 8 p.m. Wednesday to photograph and fingerprint all persons connected with civil defense here. Fingerprinting is a requirement for all who have enrolled in first aid classes, as well as those who have enlisted in the ground observer corps. Mrs. Lloyd Wonsetler, recruiting chairman, requests all connected with these phases of defense work to be present, including substitutes in the ground observer corps.

An 18-hour schedule is planned for the start of the ground observer vigil, which will be about Sept. 1. Arrangements for the early morning hours after midnight have not been completed.

Members of Troop 16, Boy Scouts, of the Methodist Church were the guests at a corn roast at the home of Mrs. Wonsetler, W. Salem St., Friday evening.

MEMBERS OF the Kiwanis Club will have a swimming party at Firstone Pool at 10 p.m. today, following their meeting at Heck's. The party has been arranged by Rev. H. J. Scheidemantle, vice president of the club. A short business meeting will follow the dinner this evening.

Rev. Percy Watkinson of Parnard, Wales, exchange minister at the Toronto Methodist Church, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Rotary Club this evening. Rev. W. S. Longsworth is program chairman.

Clipper Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will have installation Wednesday evening of the officers elected last Wednesday evening.

The Green Thumb Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Evan Roller, 311 N. Main St., at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, when Mrs. William Seimon of Girard will be the instructor in a flower arranging workshop. Members of the club are to take completed arrangement and materials for use during the workshop.

HELEN HENDERSON Past Matron and Past Patron Club will have a picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lyder in Signal at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, members to take covered dish and table service. Hostesses will be Mrs. Clara Reeves, Mrs. Hazel Rearick and Mrs. Lyder.

On his arrival home last Wednesday evening from his vacation at Windsor, Vt., Rev. W. S. Longsworth of the Methodist Church received a telegram announcing the sudden death of Dr. W. A. Rush, his former roommate in college and seminary, which occurred in Nashville, Tenn. Dr. Rush, 45, was personnel and finance director of all the Methodist colleges in the United States. Rev. Mr. Longsworth attended the funeral Friday.

TROOP 4, GIRL Scouts, of the American Legion Auxiliary will resume regular meetings at the Legion Home Wednesday evening, meeting nights to be Wednesday evenings except the third Wednesday of every month. Darlene Brittain and Betty Rapp have been appointed to learn if members can be of assistance in civil defense. Miss Connie Griffin is leader of the troop and Mrs. Mary Moff assistant.

Plan To Handcuff Newlyweds Is Foiled

NEW YORK (AP) — Patrick Hastings, 29, thought it would be a wonderful joke to handcuff his friend Pvt. James Speer to his bride of a few hours, Joan, and then mail the keys to Alaska.

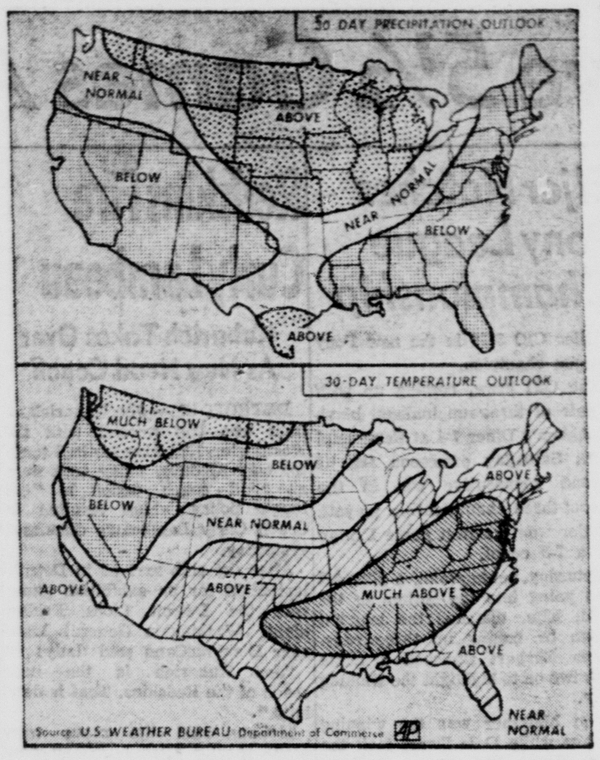

So he bought a pair of heavyduty handcuffs for $15 and took them along to the wedding reception at a Brooklyn hotel.

But Speer and his new wife ducked out early, and there were the handcuffs, sitting in their box. So. . . .

At 4 a.m., after two emergency squad cops had worked an hour and a half to clip off the manacles, Hastings didn't think the joke was so funny.

Somebody at the party had handcuffed Hastings to his own wife.

Mrs. Huston In 20th Year Of 4-H Work

When the 37 boys of the Salem Township Junior Farmers 4-H Club display their projects at the County Fair Tuesday, a quiet, graying woman will look on with a special satisfaction.

She is Mrs. Ralph Huston of Teegarden Rd., co-founder of the club and its advisor since 1945. A fiftyish and unassuming ex - farm woman, Mrs. Huston is rounding out her 20th year in 4-H club work this year.

With seven girls in May 1926, she organized the Successful Workers, a cooking club. Girls on the roll at that time included Harriet McArter, Christine McArter, Virginia Glass, Enid Glass, Ida Mae Hilliard, Mary McGlauffin and Juanita Grubbs, all of RD 3, Salem.

In 1930 the group changed its name to the Silver Thimble 4-H Club, which is now advised by Mrs. Willis McArter of RD 3, Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Huston formed the boys' club ten years ago and it has been one of the most successful clubs in the county ever since.

"I like to work with young folks and watch their advancement," said the woman who has helped hundreds of boys and girls to go into the work-a-day world with better "heads, hands, health and heart," the objective of the 4-H movement.

"The main benefit of 4-H work," she concluded, "is it teaches cooperation."

Leetonia

Football Squad Is Feted By Booster Club

LEETONIA — About 55 were in attendance at Wick Park Thursday evening when the Leetonia Booster Club entertained the Leetonia High School football squad, coaches and school officials at a wiener roast. Chairman Francis Brennan and President Charles Stelts acted as chefs, and Charles Couchie handed out refreshments.

The Leetonia High School Bears officially opened the 1954 football practice season here Friday morning when about 40 candidates responded to the call issued by coach Robert McNea.

The candidates practiced for three hours Friday, equally dividing the time between a morning and afternoon session. This daily program will be in force until the start of school Sept. 7, when practice sessions will be held each evening after school. Coach McNea is being assisted by Joe Benzinger, Tom McCutcheon and Raymond Williams.

Coach McNea stated that any local high school boys who are interested in trying for the team should contact him at the High School Building.

The boys got their physical examinations and checkups Wednesday morning.

W.S.C.S. of the Methodist Church will meet at the Parish House on Tuesday evening at 6:00. Devotional leader will be Mrs. R. C. Shive, and program leader, Mrs. Elsie McCandless.

Plans were discussed for the camping trip the members of the troop will make to Camp McKinley Aug. 27, 28 and 29 when the Leetonia Boy Scouts met at the Sportsmen's Cherry Valley Club house last week. Archery and rifle shoots preceded the meeting.

Early in August the Scouts enjoyed a conducted tour of the Williams Wild Game Farm near New Waterford. The scouts returned to the Sportsmen's Club house and enjoyed a watermelon feast, followed by a short business meeting.

Friday evening, August 4, four boys of the local Troop were advanced to the rank of Second Class Scouts by the board of review. The four are Tom Backwood, Ray Lodge, Harry Steele and Larry Morris. They will be given their awards at a Court of Honor to be held at the Cherry Valley Club house on Sept. 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Jeswald and son have returned home from a two-week tour of the New England states and a visit with their son, Joseph, at Cape Ann, Mass.

The Willing Workers Class will hold a picnic covered dish meeting on the church lawn this evening at 6:30 p.m. Members are asked to bring their own table service. Coffee and rolls will be furnished. The committee is Mrs. Russell Forney, Mrs. William Beiling, Mrs. T. P. Laughner and Mrs. Ray Todd.

Indians Crush Orioles 12-1, Move 5½ Games Ahead Of Yanks

Wynn Notches 17th Victory; Tribe Moves To Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Cleveland's Indians haven't had it so good in many a day.

They've got hitting, most of the time right when they need it. Their so - called "big three" pitching strength has become the "big three plus two" with fine relief help on tap, too.

And with the breaks that it takes, their league lead is up to 5½ games, a record for the season and an awe-inspiring distance at this time of year to the team on the wrong end of it, the New York Yankees.

A crushing 12 - 1 Tribe victory over the Baltimore Orioles and the Boston Red Sox' third straight triumph over the faltering Yanks stretched the league margin to its new proportions yesterday.

Adding to the optimism felt generally among Cleveland fans is the fact that Cleveland has only 34 in the vital "games lost" column against New York's 40; and has 32 games yet to play against New York's 31.

The big three—Early Wynn, Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia—have a total of 50 victories to their credit. That compares with 46 at this time las year; 47 in 1952, 46 in '51, 42 in '50 and 47 in 1949, the first year they all played on the same team.

Wynn won his 17th yesterday as he limited the Orioles to three hits and was still going strong when he was replaced by a reliefer at the end of the seventh inning. Lemon has won 18 and Garcia 15.

The "plus two" are veteran Bob Feller, having a fine season with 11 victories and but two defeats, and Art Houtteman, contributing 13 victories against six losses.

Then there's "Prince" Hal Newhouser with five victories, and two youngsters—Ray Narleski and Don Mossi—coming through repeatedly in relief roles.

Almost all of the Tribe seems to be hitting when it counts, but Larry Doby stands well above the rest. He hammered in two runs yesterday and brought his total runs-batted-in for the season to 102. This is the fourth time in the last six seasons Doby has gone over the 100 mark.

In yesterday's game, Doby batted twice in Cleveland's big six-run fifth inning, getting a single and a double. He singled in the third inning for a total of three hits in five trips to the plate.

Avila and Hegan also hit doubles. Every Indian who started, with the exception of Al Smith, got at least one hit.

The Indians tallied 20 hits.

Baltimore's lone run came in the fifth when Jim Brideweser doubled and Chuck Diering singled him home.

Off today, the Indians open a two-game series with the Athletics here tomorrow.

Ferguson Wins Golf Club Tournament

Bill Ferguson won the weekend tournament at the Salem Golf club by shooting a 30 in an "Odd and Even" affair.

Walter Deming was second at 32 while Elliott Hansell and Jim Wingard were tied for third with 34's.

In the Scotch Twosome, Low Gross honors went to Jim Wingard and Helen Gonda with 38 while second place finishers were Ruth Gurney and Bob Maurer.

Low Net honors went to the team of Lester Kille and Grace Hartsough with a score of 31. The team of Ray Reasbeck and Helen Maurer captured second place, low gross with a 33.

Little League Squads Split Doubleheader

The Salem Little Leaguers and the Waynesburg, Pa., Little Leaguers split a double-header at Centennial Park Sunday afternoon as the local Minor All-Stars won 10-4 while the Waynesburg Major 'Stars triumphed 8-2 in overtime.

Last year, when Salem made the trip to the Pennsylvania city, the two squads also split a pair of games.

Approximately 50 fans from Waynesburg came down yesterday to see the games. The Salem American Legion post feted the players and followers to a lunch at noon while the Elks treated the visitors and all the Salem players to an evening supper.

In the minor league game, Salem scored nine runs in the last two innings to overcome a 4-1 deficit.

Jack Stelts led the hitting with three hits while Dick Ehrhart and Larry Whinnery had two each. Crosday homered for the losers. Whinnery was the winning pitcher, allowing just three hits.

Waynesburg scored six runs in the top of the seventh inning to win the Major League contest. The two teams were tied at the end of the regulation six innings at 2-all, forcing the extra-inning playoff.

Paul Herman gave up just five hits in hurling the first six innings. John Hanna and Aaron Swearingson pitched the seventh.

The locals could collect only four hits of Waynesburg pitching, two of them by Herman. Wright of the winners smashed a homerun in the seventh with two on, one of the longest drives ever seen at the local Little League Centennial Park

Salem Riders Nip Valley 7-6

Fricke Scores Winning Goals In Last Chukker

In the season's best-played and most exciting game, the Salem Polo team nipped Chagrin Valley 7-6 before a large crowd at the local field Sunday.

Harry Fricke, Salem's leader with three goals, registered a pair of scores in the final period to give the local riders the win.

Chagrin Valley led 4-3 at halftime, but Willie Smith knotted the count in the fourth period. Both teams scored once in the fifth and, in the sixth, despite Valley's goal, Fricke came through with his two to account for Salem's thrilling win.

The game was marked by spirited play and hard riding throughout. Neither team ever enjoyed more than a 2-goal lead at any one point in the game.

Fricke had three goals, Smith and Sheen, two each for all of Salem's scoring. Jack Arnold led the visitors with three tallies.

Salem will play next Sunday at Cleveland while, over the Labor Day weekend, a double-header is carded at Columbus. The season wi close when Columbus Harbor Hills invades Salem Sept. 12.

Bliss Is Ousted From State Tourney

Salem Bliss' hopes for the state softball championship were blasted Saturday night at Chardon when the Osbourne nine from Geauga County shut out the Cardinals 5-0.

If the locals had won, they would have entered the semi-finals of the District 13 tournament.

Bliss was able to collect only two hits, both in the same inning when their only scoring threat materialized.

Jack Rance led off with a single and Ed Bozich followed with another hit but Rance was out trying to make third base.

Although the next batter walked, two flyouts then ended the inning and Salem's only serious threat.

Eljer Notches Pony League Championship

Eljer CIO 3816 in the new Pony League champion.

The CIO crew, coming up with a pair of three-run innings, blasted Aldom's Diner 7-4 at Centennial Park Saturday afternoon for its second consecutive win in the best-of-three championship playoff.

Eljer won the first game Friday by a 7-2 count.

Saturday, maintaining a slim 3-2 lead going into the bottom of the third, Eljer clinched the league crown by comng up three runs. Ralph Ehrhart smashed a triple with two on to highlight the winning rally.

Jim Meissner was the winning pitcher while Dale Swart took the loss. Dick Whitman rapped a homerun for the losers.

Dick Beall and Darryl Adams of Eljer and Bob Stallsmith of Diner each poked two hits while Diner's Jerry Buffington took batting honors, going three for four.

Seixas, Trabert Win National Doubles

BROOKLINE, Mass., (AP) — Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert are preparing for the singles championships at Forest Hills secure in the knowledge they're still the doubles team to beat in the tennis world.

Seixas, the scrappy, court-wise Philadelphian, and Trabert, the "big game" specialist from Cincinnati, playing together for the first time since Wimbledon, defeated Australia's Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall 3-6 6-4, 8-6, 6-3 in the finals of the National Doubles Tournament.

In the women's final, defending champions Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., and Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, won their fourth straight title 6-4, 6-4 over Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Mrs. Margaret Osborne du Pont of Wilmington, Del.

Hoad's blazing service and net game and Rosewall's placements allowed the Australians to run through tht first set and hint at a rout of he Americans. Then Vic and Tony stormed back to dominate play the rest of the match.

Redskins Fire Curly Lambeau

Kuharich Takes Over As New Head Coach

DETROIT (AP) — Joe Kuharich, a man who has worked with the Washington Redskins football team for only 33 days, today took over as head coach under a "get tough" policy which resulted in Coach Curly Lambeau's dismissal yesterday.

After the club arrived in Detroit last night for an exhibition game with the Detroit Lions Friday night, Washington General Manager Dick McCann said flatly:

"Joe Kuharich is the new coach of the Redskins. That is definite."

McCann said the move was made shortly after Lambeau and fiery George Preston Marshall, Redskin owner, had a heated argument in the lobby of a Sacramento, Calif., hotel early yesterday.

Kuharich, 37, is the sixth Redskin coach in eight years.

Lambeau did not make the trip to Detroit.

Kuharich said, "I only know that I was told that I am in charge of the team."

Sources close to the team said they believed Marshall was displeased with the "easygoing" approach Lambeau had taken with the club.

"Players like Lambeau because he lets them get into shape the way they see fit," said one source, "and now you can bet they'll really have to hustle."

This is Kuharich's first season with the club. He began work with them July 20 as an assistant line coach. He was head coach of the Chicago Cardinals in 1952 after piloting the University of San Francisco to an undefeated season in 1951. He began coaching Notre Dame's freshman team in 1938 and played guard for the Cardinals in 1940, '41 and '45.

Lambeau took over in August 1952 when Dick Todd resigned on the night of the Redskins opening game of the season with the Los Angeles Rams. He won five games in 1952 and lost seven. Last year he won six, lost five and had one tie.

WINS TENNIS TITLE

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—John Powless of Flora, Ill., yesterday won the first annual Western Invitational Tennis Tournament singles championship by defeating Bob Malaga of Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., 3-6, 6-0, 6-2. Joe Russell and John Brownlow of Cleveland won the doubles title defeating Jim Bricknell and Morey Drilling of Detroit, 6-3, 6-3.

Canfield Golfer Favored In Open

DAYTON Ohio (AP) — When Jack Thompson Jr. of Canfield filed a medal score of 70 at Walnut Grove golf course here yesterday, he set himself up as one of the favorites in the Ohio Open, which started today, and also carried on an old family tradition.

The other early favorite to win the three-day, 72-hole Open is Hans Merrell of Cuyahoga Falls, who also carded 70 in yesterday's pro-members tournament.

The Thompsons—junior and senior—have shone before on Dayton courses. Thompson Senior won the Ohio Open at Dayton's Miami Valley in 1928 with a score of 301. Young Thompson, a 24-year-old, 6 foot 1½, 204-pounder, was medalist in the state amateur qualifier at Miami Valley in 1948.

Thompson Senior also is a contender in this year's Open.

4 DROPPED IN TOURNEY

SPRINGFIELD Ohio (AP) — The field continued to narrow as four more teams were eliminated in the Women's State Softball Tournament here yesterday.

Columbus Julian Appliance eliminated Conneaut B & B with a 4-1 victory in the double - elimination tournament; Toledo CIO knocked out Dalton, 6-3; Ashland elminated Akron Moore's 8-2, and Columbus Pope's Inn eliminated Zanesfield, 10-1.

Dayton NCR handed the Findlay Merchants their first loss, 14-2, and Dayton Country Kitchen defeated Hubbard, 3-0. The two Dayton teams are undefeated in the tournament.

Red Sox Trip Faltering Yanks 8-2, Giants Cement Grip On 1st Place

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

While the American League in general and New York Yankees in particular waits breathlessly for the Cleveland Indians' tepee to collapse, the Tribe blithely ignores the somber warnings of their enemies.

Al Lopez's remarkable Redskins were 5½ games in front of the Yanks today and showing no signs of tapering off in their war on the rest of the league. In fact, the Yanks' only chance of winning their sixth straight pennant now is a Cleveland collapse.

The Tribe whipped Baltimore yesterday 12-1 while the Boston Red Sox were putting the crusher on Casey Stengel's outfit 8-2.

Elsewhere in the American League. Detroit halted Chicago (the White Sox are out of it) 7-4, and the Philadelphia A's defeated Washington 3-2 in the first game of a scheduled double-header. The second was called after nine innings because of the Sunday curfew with the score tied 4-4.

In the National League, the New York Giants cemented their claim to the pennant by gaining two games on the Brooklyn Dodgers. They swept a double-header from the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4 and 5-3 while the Philadelphia Phillies were crushing the Brooks twice, 6-2 and 6-0.

The Milwaukee Braves, 7½ games off the pace, blasted Chicago 12-6 and the St. Louis Cardinals outlasted the Cincinnati Redlegs 9-7.

The Tribe slapped out 20 hits while Early Wynn held the Baltimore club to three in his seven innings on the mound. After that Lopez sent in the scrubs.

The Yanks could do nothing right. Only ancient Enos Slaughter was impressive. Ted Williams knocked in the first four Sox runs with a homer and a double. That was all Frank Sullivan needed to hang up his 11th victory and give Boston a sweep of the three-game weekend series. Harry Byrd was the victim.

Detroit jumped on Billy Pierce for four runs in the first two innings and the White Sox never did get back in the game. Frank Bolling drove in three of the Tigers' runs. Billy Hoeft was the winner.

Joe DeMaestri drove home the winning run for the A's in the 12th inning of the opener against the Senators to give Charlie Bishop his victory.

The Pirates kocked both the Giants' ace pitchers, Johnny Antonelli and Sal Maglie, out of the box before losing. The Giants had to score twice in the ninth to win the first game. A pinch single by Billy Taylor drove in the winning run after three straight passes and an error forced in the tying marker.

In the nightcap, the Pirates chased Maglie in the fifth, and from there on in, a brilliant relief job by Hoyt Wilhelm held them in check. He didn't yield a hit in the 4 2-3 innings he toiled.

The Giants now have a bulge of four games over the Dodgers.

A couple of pitchers who have had indifferent success to put it charitably, mowed down the Brooks. Herman Wehmeier, whose record shows six victories and nine defeats, whipped them in the opener, and, in fact, had a shutout until the eighth. In the nightcap, Murry Dickson was nursing a 10-game losing streak until the Phils whitewashed them in the second game.

Del Ennis was the Brooks' nemesis. He hit a three-run homer in each game and drove in seven runs. Carl Erskine was the first-game victim and Russ Meyer the second, although neither was around at the end.

Bobby Thomson returned to full-time duty with Milwaukee and promptly belted a two-run home run. Brave home run slugger Eddie Mathews left the game after he was hit on the finger. There was no fracture. He'll be out only a few days.

St. Louis' victory over Cincinnati dropped the Redlegs to fifth place. Stan Musial had a pair of doubles in the 13-hit Card attack on five Red pitchers. Al Brazle was the winner.

Merchants Blast New Waterford 11-6 In County Playoffs

Locals Capture 1st Round Title

To Face Liverpool, Kensington Winner

Breaking loose with an overpowering 20-hit attack for the afternoon, the Salem Merchants broke a 6-all tie in the ninth inning to drop New Waterford 11-6 Sunday at East Palestine, concluding the locals' first-round playoff action in the County League.

Coupled with Thursday's victory over the same team, yesterday's win gave Salem the decision in the best-of-three playoff between the league leaders and the third place team.

The Merchants now advance into the championship finals.

In the other bracket, fourth place Kensington upset second place East Liverpool yesterday 4-3. However, Liverpool has protested the game, claiming that Kensington used ineligible players. A league meeting will be held at Lisbon this evening, where the protest will be considered and the schedule for the championship playoff games will be completed.

IN YESTERDAY'S SLUGFEST, the locals pounded out two home-runs, three doubles and 15 singles as every man but relief pitcher Hank Siefke recorded at least one hit. Every player but Siefke and substitute outfielder Carson McNeely scored at least one run.

The two squads traded runs almost evenly throughout the first seven innings, after which the score was tied at 6-all.

After a scoreless eighth, Salem broke out with seven hits in the ninth, aided by a walk, to tally five runs and take the game and the playoff.

Dick Wyss started on the hill for the Merchants and was relieved in the fifth by Siefke. Bob Theiss came in during the eighth with one on and none out and struck out three men in holding Waterford scoreless in the last two innings. Thiess gets the win.

Bill Odorizzi led the heavy attack, slamming out five hits in six trips, including a homerun, a double and three singles. Red Weingart smashed a double and three singles in six trips while Roger Stitle poled a third inning home run for the locals.

Cards Drop Redlegs Out Of 1st Division

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Folding with the regularity of an accordian, the Cincinnati Redlegs today found themselves out of the first division and in the more familiar surroundings of fifth place.

It was another case of plenty of hitting but inadequate pitching yesterday as the St. Louis Cardinals collapsed the Reds, 9-7. The defeat placed Cincinnati but one percentage point ahead of the sixth-place Cardinals. The Reds relinquished fourth place to the Philadelphia Phillies, who took a double header from Brooklyn.

Frank Souchak is the only amateur golfer who automatically qualifies for this year's U.S. Open golf championship. He was among the 20 low scorers last year.

Jerry Carver Wins Feature At Canfield

Leading throughout the 25 laps, Jerry Carver of Canfield won last night's sportsmen division feature at Canfield Speedway before 5,398 spectators. Carver started from the pole position and wasted no time grabbing the lead. Ted Wise of Hubbard ran second. Mike Klapak of Warren waging an uphill battle to overtake Bob James of Cleveland in the MARC point standing, picked up a little ground, finishing third. James came in seventh.

The 10-lap sports car event went to Walt Brown of Crafton, Pa. In his sleek Jaguar, Brown won by a wide margin over 14 other rivals.

In the first heat, fans saw one of the closest finishes of the season. Bill Forney of Youngstown, beat Klapak by a mere foot.

Wes Crowley of Boardman and Jimmy Florian of Cleveland tangled on the ninth lap in the second heat and rammed the fence on the back straightaway. Ernie Cramer of North Lima spun out in the fourth and was rammed by George Schimley of Warren.

Native Dancer Retired After Foot Is Injured

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP) —Native Dancer, the great grey champion known as "the people's horse" although owned by a millionaire, is going home to Maryland—his racing days ended.

Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt reluctantly decided yesterday to retire the powerful 4-year-old colt to stud after the recurrence of an injury to his right forefoot.

The idol of millions, at the tracks and over the television lanes, was to have started in the mile and three quarters Saratoga Cup Friday. Then a decision was to have been made whether to fly the colt to France.

Vanderbilt made his decision suddenly after conferring with trainer Bill Winfrey. The Dancer, winner of 21 of his 22 races, worked out Sunday morning.

It was only one week ago today that the Dancer ran his last race, passing the 20-out-of-21 record of the great Man O'War, who was retired after his 3-year-old season in 1920.

Record Field In U.S. Trapshoot Finals Seen

By FRITZ HOWELL

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — This Miami Valley village braced itself today for the biggest barrage in trapshooting history.

The 5th Grand American trapshoots championship event opened today, and President C. E. Huber of the Amateur Trapshooting Assn. of America predicted the entry list will top those of the previous 54 events.

Last year 1,949 entrants fired in the Grand American Handicap, the No. 1 feature, exceeding the previous high by almost 200.

Huber said entries in this year's classic probably will go over the 2,000 mark.

First indications that the entry record would be broken came yesterday when 429 took part in the Dayton Homecoming 200-target event, the last in three days of tuneup competition.

Last year's 385 was a record for that event.

Today's program, the "introductory," called for 200-targets at 16 yards with an entry fee of $25 of which 13 will enter the purse fund.

To be decided on the first 100 targets were the husband-and-wife title based on combined scores and the veterans championship for men over 70 and women over 50. On the total 200 targets the parent-child and brother-brother titles were to be decided.

Added features were the "champion of champions" races for the women and junior state title holders to be decided over 100-targets at 16 yards.

Today's program offered the first 200 of the 600 targets at 16 yards to be fired at this week.

The "Roaring Grand" slate also calls for 300 targets at handicaps and 100 doubles. The 1,500,000-target program ends Saturday.

Lawrence Jones Jr., 17-year-old high school senior from Condon, Ore., won yesterday's homecoming race with a perfect 20.

His father won the opening handicap tuneup Friday.

Lee Braun, 43, of San Francisco, led the professional field with 200 of 200.

Under the trapshooting rules, young Jones, an amateur, received the top cash prize while Braun received only a trophy: Professionals receive no cash prizes at the Grand.

A marksman must pay 170 in entry fees to shoot 1,000 targets this week. Each is permitted to toss another $250 plus into the optional wagering system and on top of that must use up at least 40 boxes of 12-gauge shotgun shells costing another $100.

But the payoff is terrific and the top flight shooters will take home about $250,000 in purses and optional returns.

Who Was Victim X?

Victim X, whose name will never be known, was the 1,000,000th highway traffic fatality in the United States since 1900. Victim X may have been man, woman or child—it might have been you!

This life, sacrificed to carelessness, was snuffed out in an automobile accident late in 1951. Only a few months earlier, another unknown met his death on a Korean battlefield. "GI-X" was the millionth soldier to die for his country since the Battle of Lexington, April 19, 1775. It took seven United States wars and the conflict in Korea to count a toll of 1,000,000 Americans who died in the cause of freedom and independence. It took only 52 years for another million to be killed on the streets and highways of our country. Besides these dead in traffic accidents, 35,000,000 more were injured, maimed or disfigured for life.

Automobiles will claim their second million victims much sooner, possibly in the next 25 years, unless you and 60,000,000 other drivers get seriously safety conscious.

Carelessness causes nine out of every ten accidents. Speeding, drinking-and-driving, violation of rules of the road and right-of-way, are major causes of auto fatalities and serious accidents. Lack of alertness by pedestrians contributes its toll to the death statistics.

Drive safely—walk safely. Save your own life—and the lives of others.

ARMY TESTS IN DESERT CLASSROOM

AT AN ARMY STATION in Yuma, Ariz., where the ground temperatures soar to 160 degrees, a picked detachment of men and some special equipment are undergoing tests to toughen up the American soldier. Technicians from the Quartermaster corps are conducting the studies to discover the effect of desert conditions on troops and their clothing and weapons. The soldiers were chosen for their varying physical characteristics and one of the tests will find out their body dimension changes. Another problem to be solved is effect of extreme heat on footgear. Other studies are aimed at finding the best traction aids to reduce energy use in crossing areas of soft sand. Loose sand dune terrain presents walking difficulties similar to soft snow. However, while skis, snowshoes and toboggans are used on snow, desert equipment has lagged behind. Still other studies will be made for load-carrying problems, the absorption of solar radiation by fabrics of different color and texture and a comparison of experimental and standard desert uniforms. Tests are part of an Army program to provide maximum protection for all kinds of climate and terrain.

Army Disputes Claim Of Watermelon Damage

TOKYO, (AP)—The U.S. Army, taking issue with some Japanese farmers, said today its paratroopers did only $36 worth of damage to watermelon crops on a recent test drop—including the ones the soldiers ate.

The farmers had claimed the soldiers had eaten and otherwise damaged $360 worth.

The Army said every company in the 187th Airborne Regiment that made the drop wil bi held equally responsible for the watermelons and will chip in to repay the farmers.

NOTICE OF ELECTION
On ISSUE OF BONDS

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a resolution of the Council of the City of Salem, Columbiana County, Ohio, passed on the 23rd day of July, 1954, there will be submitted to a vote of the people of said City of Salem at the General Election to be held in the City of Salem, Columbiana County, Ohio, at the regular places of voting therein, on Tuesday, the 2nd day of November, 1954, the question of issuing bonds of said City of Salem in the amount of Four Hundred Fifty Thousand and No/100 Dollars ($450,000.00) for the purpose of constructing, improving and enlarging the sewerage system of the City of Salem as provided by law.

The maximum number of years during which such bonds are to run is twenty-five (25) years.

The estimated average additional tax rate amounts to ten cents ($0.10) for each one hundred dollars of valuation, which is one (1) mill for each one dollar of valuation, outside of the limitation imposed by Artcle XII, Section 2 of the Constitution, as certified by the County Auditor.

The polls of said election will open at 6:30 o'clock a. m. and remain open until 6:30 o'clock p. m. Eastern Standard Time of said day.

By order of the Board of Elections, of Columbiana County, Ohio.
C. L. STACEY, Chairman.
FRANK R. O'HANLON, Clerk.

HAIL COVERS CITY

MEXICO CIT Y(AP) — Hail which fell during a torrential rain covered much of downtown Mexico City like snow yesterday. Several streets were flooded when the hail blocked outlets.

Melt two squares of unsweetened chocolate with a half teaspoon of butter, then dribble around the top edge of a white-frosted cake; let the chocolate run down the sides of the cake in uneven lines.

Obituary

Mrs. Domenic Lisi

Mrs. Jennie DeCrow Lisi, 46, of 173 S. Howard Ave. died in the Central Clinic at 12:50 p.m. Saturday after an illness of one year.

Born in Salem, Jan. 12, 1908, she was the daughter of Joseph and Mary DeCrow. She lived in Salem all her life and was a member of St. Paul Church.

She is survived by her husband, Domenic; three daughters, Rosalie, Virginia and Patricia; a son, Theodore, all at home; her mother, Mrs. Mary DeCrow and six brothers, Bernard, August, Louis, Michael, Herman and Anthony all of Salem.

Her father, Joseph DeCrow, preceded her in death in January of 1953.

Service will be at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday at St. Paul Church with Rev. Fr. J. R. Gaffney in charge.

Interment will be in Grandview Cemetery.

Friends may call anytime at the home of her mother at 220 S. Howard Ave.

Mrs. George Baumann

Mrs. Margaret Baumann, 73, of Noblestown, Pa., died suddenly at 10:30 p.m. Saturday while visiting at the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Chain on Damascus Road.

She had been visiting at the Chain home one day.

She is survived by her husband George H. Baumann and one brother Ed Conn of Aliiquippa, Pa.

Funeral services will be held at the Thomas Funeral Home at Oakdale, Pa., at 2 p.m. Tuesday. Burial will be at Robinson Run Cemetery.

William Watkins

LISBON — William Watkins, 70, of Lisbon RD 3, a retired service station operator, died this morning at 5 at Salem City Hospital after an illness of two weeks.

Born in Mineral City, O., July 19, 1884, he was the son of James and Belle Watkins.

After operating the Y-Service Station at the junction of Routes 30 and 172 for several years, he bought the Hilltop Service Station on the Canton Hill and operated it for about six years.

A resident of the vicinity for 40 years, he was a member of the Lisbon Christian Church.

He and his widow, Belle, would have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in October. Other survivors are a stepson, Clayton Brown of Lisbon; two brothers, Charles and James, both of Bergholz; three sisters, Mrs. Cory Williams and Mrs. Lottie Shortland, both of Amsterdam, and Mrs. Elizabeth Warrington of Bergholz; three grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Services will be Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Henry Funeral Home with Rev. Cyril Houston of the Christian Church officiating. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Camera Club To Elect

Changes in the constitution and bylaws will be discussed and officers will be elected when the Camera Club meets Wednesday night at the Memorial Building.

NEWSPAPER OFFICIAL DIES

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Russell Hynes Hackett, assistant business manager of the Youngstown Vindicator, died yesterday. He was 57. Private funeral services will be held tomorrow.

day, as a record of which the administration is proud.

The President said that in so many words in a speech at the Illinois State Fair five days ago. He declared then he feels the voters, in the November elections, ought to send more Republicans to Washington to give his party greater control of the legislative branch.

The President, accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower and a small White House staff, arrived here at midday Saturday for a long work-and-play vacation.

Within two hours after arrival, he got in a practice round on the golf course and then turned to business yesterday. He motored from the home of the First Lady's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, to the Summer White House offices at Lowry Air Force Base and worked for 90 minutes with his aides on tonight's speech.

After returning to the residence of his mother-in-law, he and the First Lady took it easy the rest of the day. They did not attend church services.

Worked On Speech

The President also worked on the draft of tonight's speech during the six-hour flight from Washington Saturday. He gave some attention too to an outline of an address he will make at the annual convention of the American Legion in Washington Aug. 30.

That will be a one-day flight to the capital and back, with a stop in Des Moines on the return trip for a brief informal talk at the Iowa State Fair.

The President has a daytime talk scheduled at McNary Dam dedication ceremonies, on the Oregon - Washington boundary, Sept. 23. And he will address a political rally in Hollywood Bowl at Los Angeles that evening.

Those September engagements mean he won't return to Washington to stay until very late in September or early October. More speaking dates are being arranged.

The President brought to Denver close to 500 bills passed by Congress during the closing days of its session. Decisions whether to sign them into law or veto them probably will keep him close to his desk most of this week.

His headquarters announced yesterday the United States will provide transportation for evacuation of up to 100,000 refugees from North Vietnam in Indochina, the area soon to come under Communist control. This is an increase over previous plans.

"JUST FOR THRILLS" — Three New York youths who confessed to the killing of two men, watch Assistant District Attorney Lewis Cohen examine a whip they said they used in horsewhipping two girls and two homeless tramps. Standing, left to right, are Melvin Mittman, 17; Jerome Lieberman, 17, and Jack Kaslow, 18. The youths told police how they and another youth being held on a juvenile delinquency charge went on a crime spree in Brooklyn parks, apparently just for thrills. Police stenographer Arthur Monford, seated, left, takes notes.

Rotary Club To Hold Family Get-Together

The Rotary Club will hold a family outing Tuesday at 5 p.m. at the Salem Country Club.

A "warm-up" ball game for the impending battle with the Kiwanis Club and "barnyard golf" will be features. Other games and contests have been planned for adults and children.

Dinner will be served after the ball game.

Woman Attempts Suicide In Lisbon

LISBON — Two popcorn saleswomen from Columbus, one of whom attempted to take her life by throwing herself in front of a truck Saturday night, were fined a total of $125 and costs by Mayor Wilbur Warren Sunday for intoxication and disorderly conduct.

Mrs. Dolores Wilson, in Lisbon to sell popcorn at the Columbiana County Fair, ran screaming before 150 spectators into Jackson St. and flung herself in front of a passing pickup truck driven by Joe Muntean of Lisbon. Muntean stopped before striking the woman. She was fined $25 for disorderly conduct.

Her mother, Mrs. Goldie Moore, who police say was drinking whiskey and beer in her car parked at a gas station, was fined $100 on a charge of consuming liquor in a motor vehicle.

Mrs. Wilson, frustrated in her first attempt to take her life, leaped into the path of another pickup truck soon after. The driver, who was unidentified, also stopped before the vehicle struck her.

Before police arrived, the distraught woman ran into nearby bushes where she was found unconscious by police and state highway patrolmen. She is being held at the Lisbon detention room and will be jailed in Youngstown in lieu of the fine.

Three County Youths Attend Forestry Camp

Three Columbiana County boys are among the sixty teen-agers from 35 Ohio counties who are studying various phases of forestry and conservation this week at the fourth annual training camp of the Ohio Forestry Association.

For the first time the camp is co-educational; nine girls and fifty-one boys are registered. The week's sessions are at Camp Ohio, near Utica in northern Licking County.

Camp Director is Roy McKinley, principal of the Coshocton High School. County representatives are: Graydon Welling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin G. Welling, RD 2, Leetonia; Jerry Delp, son of Mrs. Daniel Delp, RD 1, Kensington; and James E. Dunn, son of Mr. E. W. Dunn, MC 1 ,Salem. Their sponsors are Ferris Coal Co., East Palestine, Lisbon Coal Co., Lisbon, and Buckeye Coal Mining Co., Lisbon.

Churchmen Set Down Principles

Delegates' Reports On Attitudes Awaited

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Churchmen from throughout the world began hammering out in cold prose today the principles which they hope will guide 170 million Christians.

Meeting in discussion groups, the delegates to th esecond General Assembly of the World Council of Churches sought answers to such questions as the church's attitude toward communism; the capitalistic, free enterprise system and racial and social problems.

Agreed to by members of the discussion groups, the reports later this week will be submitted to full plenary sessions of the Assembly and adopted for guidance by the more than 60 denominations holding membership in the World Council.

There will be six of the reports. Delegates said today that the two on which they will have the most difficulty in reaching agreement will be those on international affairs and social questions.

On international affairs, the churchmen sought -to determine what are the main obstacles to an understanding between the Soviet and non-Soviet societies. They tried, too, to find a solution to what they called the "misunderstandings, hostiliy and suspicion" between the East and the West.

They tried to find answers to such questions as these:

"What is the significance of international technical and financial assistance for underdeveloped countries in relation to a positive peace strategy?

"What must be said from a Christian perspective with regard to such dangers as complacency among Western powers, intolerant methods among Soviet states, irresponsibility among some of the less developed countries?

The Council's department of interchurch aid and service to refugees dramatized its statistics last night and with a cast of 50 told the story of he world's millions of refugees and what the church is doing to help them.

a mishap with a vehicle driven by Donald McDade, 43, of East Liverpool on the Grimes Ridge Road, one and one-half miles north of Route 170.

Admitted to Hospital

The driver of the other car, Mrs. Pearl Jones, 48, of East Liverpool, suffered lacerations of the forehead, chest injuries and a possible fractured left shoulder. A passenger in her car, Mrs. Emma Wright, 47, also of East Liverpool, sustained lacerations of the head and chest injuries. Both were admitted to the East Liverpool Hospital. The accident is still under investigation by patrolmen.

Richard Haldiman, 23, of East Palestine, was cited by patrolmen for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after the car he was driving struck the rear of an auto driven by Raymond Dyke, 32, of Negley. The accident occurred on Route 170, three miles south of East Palestine, at 6 p.m. yesterday.

Man Held For Theft Of Women's Garments

BALTIMORE, (AP)—Mrs. Catherine Stumpf reported she had seen another roomer stealing from the rooming house operated by Mrs. Elsie Intlekofer.

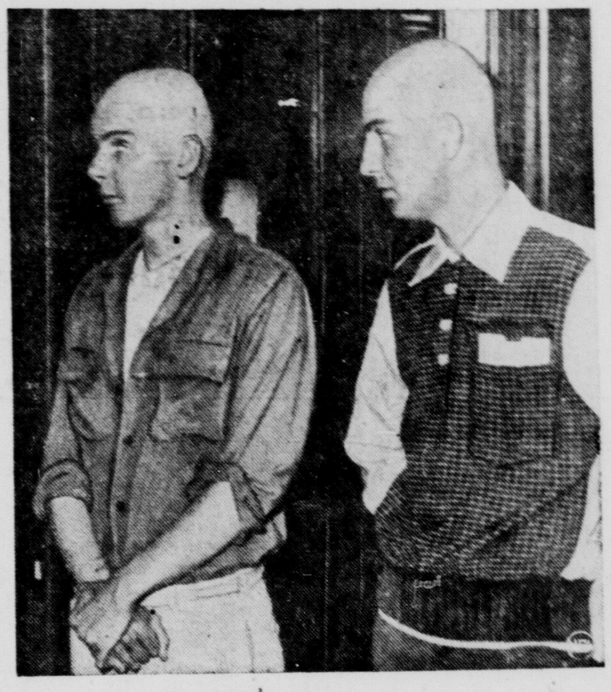

Police arrested Lenoard Kendrzejewski, 38, several blocks away with the goods. They said he was wearing two pairs of panties, a slip and three ladies' wrist watches.

He was sentenced to six months for larceny.

New Guinea Missionary To Address Kiwanis Club

Rev. Ralph Goldhardt, a missionary on furlough from New Guinea, will address the Kiwanis Club when it holds its regular noon luncheon meeting Thursday in the Memorial Building.

The speaker will talk on life and work in New Guinea. Randall Bieber will be program chairman.

ACT LIKE 'EM, LOOK LIKE 'EM—Tom Fleming, left, and Tom Brown, of Dearborn, Mich., appear dejected after getting "cue ball" haircuts. Judge John T. McWilliams sent the boys to a barber upon convicting them of hoodlumism. Judge McWilliams said: "If rowdies can't think any better than billiard balls, they will have to look like them."

Salem Man Fined, Jailed For Racing In Auto

Charged with reckless operation, Richard Minor, 26, of 4th St., operator of a car which was racing another auto that crashed and injured four Salem youths in Lisbon Saturday, was fined $50 and costs and sentended to 30 days in jail by Mayor Wilbur Warren of Lisbon Sunday.

Police report Minor was the driver of the first car which sped across the Erie Railroad tracks on Jackson St. before a car driven by Lee Utterback, 21, of 469 Fair St. wrecked by Tommy's Diner.

Utterback told Lisbon police he and Minor were racing, hitting speeds of 75 to 80 miles an hour, before his car bounced off the tracks and plunged into an embankment.

Personal Income In U.S. Shows Gain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income in the United States averaged $1,709 per person last year — a $65 boost over 1952.

Reporting this yesterday, the Commerce Department said states showing the biggest gains in 1953 were Michigan, Florida, South Dakota, Ohio, Indiana and Nevada. Individual income totals rose from 9 to 12 per cent in these states with Nevada, the highest, averaging $2,175 per person.

Five states reported lower personal income in 1953 — Wyoming, Nebraska, Kansas, Idaho and Iowa. Mississippi showed a gain but still had the lowest individual average, $834.

Personal income nationwide was in 1953 compared with $256,091,000,000 the year before.

had told the Brussels group he was convinced the Assembly would reject the army plan unless the other five nations agreed to the sweeping revisions he demanded in the EDC treaty.

Throughout the Brussels talks, Churchill had kept close contact with the U. S. government. High level talks between the two transatlantic allies were expected to follow oday's meeting with Mendes-France.

mote Europe's political and economic integration.

It was generally felt that barring some miracle, EDC and the six-nation European army it was to set up were dead hopes. Observers in Paris freely predicted the National Assembly would kill the pact once and for al lif Mendes-France submits it for ratification this weekend, as he is scheduled to do.

The French Premier reportedly carried to Churchill the outline of some alternate plan of European defense, in which Britain would play a major role. Observers in London believed Churchill himself had some such plan to put before the bustling, determined French leader.

They recalled Churchill's message last week to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, a key figure at the Brussels talks.

"My belief," Churchill said then, "is that all will come out right in the end in one form or another. . ."

Adenauer himself declared yesterday, after the talks broke down, that he was confident Mendes-France would win ratification of EDC in the French National Assembly debate to begin next Saturday. The French Premier already

Three Drivers Fined By Mayor Of Lisbon

LISBON — Oscar W. Nightingale, 358 S. Ellsworth Ave., Salem was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail for drunken driving Sunday.

Mayor Wilbur Warren levied the fine after the motorist pleaded guilty to the charge. He was cited Sunday morning at 2:40 on N. Market St. by village police.

George Vittinger of Farmington was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail for failing to stop after an accident. Police said he struck a parked car on N. Market St. owned by Harry Neal of Pleasant Heights, Thursday night.

A truck driver, Joseph Heichel, 31, of Butler, Pa., was fined $10 and costs after a brick fell from his rig and struck a car on Route 30.

County Fair's Rules Bring Efficient, Successful Events

The general rules for the 109th Columbiana County Fair have resulted from the Fair Board's long experience as the regulations best suited to operating a successful and efficient fair.

The rules are listed in the Premium Book and set the entry dates, who may enter, rules for sales and competitions and conduct of persons attending.

Intoxicating drinks of all kinds, gambling or games of chance are prohibited on the fair grounds and on all avenues leading there.

The complete rules are as follows:

1. Any member of the Agricultural Board having any article or articles on exhibition is prohibited from appointing or selecting any person or persons to act as committeemen in any class in which he may be competing for a premium.

2. The management reserves the right tt withhold any premiums given by the judges under false representations, or not in accordance with the list and regulations.

3. Members of the Society must pay the sum of $2.00 including tax, annually to the Secretary before or during the Fair.

4. Competition for premiums open to all except when otherwise stated.

5. All animals that are offered for competition for premiums must be owned by, and all domestic manufacturers, needlework together with fruits, flowers, vegetables, etc., must be the production of the exhibitor in order to be entitled to competition.

6. Members of the Society will be entitled to exhibit any number of articles or animals they desire, but in no case can the same article or animals be entered to compete for more than one premium, except in case of sweepstakes or one of a team. Articles or animals entered in the regular list will also be eligible to entry for special premium without extra charge.

7. All entries close at 12:00 noon on the first day, excepting Show Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Swine, Poultry, and Grange Exhibits entries which close on August 17th at 6:00 p.m. The Secretary is hereby forbidden to disclose to prospective exhibitors any information concerning the number of character of entries in any class or make any entries after that hour. Entry blanks will be found in the last part of the premium list. In order to avoid the rush on the last day, please make your entries early. All articles or animals entered must be on ground and arranged in their proper place before 4:00 of the first day. Except Baked Goods, which must be arranged before 9:00 a.m. of the second day.

All stock must be uncovered for inspection and all walks and passageways kept clean and unobstructed between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 11:30 p.m.

8. On the entry of articles or animals, cards will be furnished by the Secretary, with the number and class as registered on his book which must be attached to the animals tr articles, otherwise the judges will pay no attention to them, and no cards will be issued or enries made on articles or animals not named in the regular list.

9. Competitors must exhibit to the Secretary heir membership cards before he will make any entry for competition.

10. The removal of livestock from the grounds, or of other things or articles exhibited before 8 p.m. of the last day of the fair will forfeit any premium awarded said animals or articles, unless by permission of the manager of the department, which may be granted if the exhibitor is shipping or for other good reasons.

11. Animals not appearing in the parade will thereby forfeit any premiums to which they might otherwise have been entitled.

12. Stock of all kinds intended for competition must remain in their stalls until called for by the Committee on Examinaion. They must not appear on the avenues uness by direction of the Board.

13. The management will take every precaution to avoid accidents, but in no case will the Society be responsible for injury to the person or property of exhibitors or visitors while on the grounds.

14. Disorderly conduct of any kind is forbidden. Those indulging therein will forfeit the right to remain longer on the grounds and will be promptly ejected.

15. Intoxicating drinks of all kinds gambling, games of chance, and all nuisances are strictly prohibited, not only on the Fair Grounds, but on the avenues leading thereto; and any person found violating this rule will thereby immediately forfeit all rightas to the grtunds leased, and will be given thirty minutes' notice to move off the Fair Grounds and all intoxicating drinks or liquors found on the premises will be destroyed on the spot.

16. No person will be permitted to engage in any kind of business, traffic or exhibition, or offer any article for sale, or distribute, or pass out, or give any article away, or solicit orders for anything of value on the Fair Grounds without a written permit from the Secretary. If a specific location is assigned any person, and they move elsewhere without securing permission from the Secretary, they shall forfeit any fee paid and be subject to immediate removal from the Grounds of the Society.

17. All animals to take counting from the year in which they were born.

18. Showmen, peddlers, hucksters, and concessionaries must apply to the concession Secretary for terms upon which they can enter the grounds. The Secretary reserves the right to examine and pass upon all articles offered for sale and-or distribution.

19. Exhibitors requiring teams, automobiles or trucks to convey their goods to the halls will have same passed to the lower grounds after discharging their load.

20. The Secretary will be prepared to make entries on and after Monday, August 16th and he earnestly desires all who intend to make entries to do so, if possible, before the first day of the Fair. Make them early. All entries must be made in writing by the exhibitor and shall state:

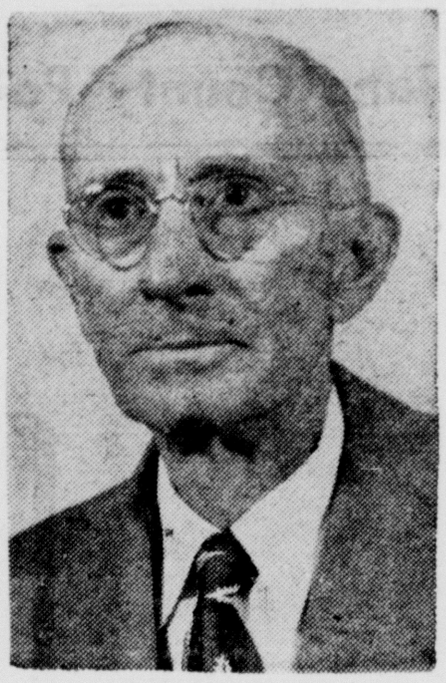

First — The name of the exhibitor and his address.

Second — The name and necessary description of the article or animal, and,

Third — The class in which the exhibits are to be placed. Fee must accompany entry, and no change can be made therein after the same has been filed. Blanks will be found in the last part of the premium list which the exhibitor must fill out. No passes will be issued to any class of exhibitors.

21. If the manager of the department deems it necessary, or in case of protest, he can put any exhibitor in his department under oath. And if it should appear that he or she has in any manner violaed the rules governing exhibitors, his or her premium shall be declared forfeited.

L. H. Copeland Heads Grain, Vegetable Show

L. H. Copeland

L. H. Copeland will supervise the grain, seeds, vegetables, fruits and flowers exhibit again this year at the county fair.

A long list of premiums awaits exhibitors in these classifications.

Grain and seed must be grown in 1954 for an award and all vegetables must be grown by the exhibitor.

In flower collections, no grower is to make more than one entry. Collections are to consist of five plants.

Strict Rules Guard Health Of Animals

Strict rules are observed at the Columbiana County Fair to insure the health of all animals exhibited. Regulations of the State of Ohio, Department of Agriculture Division of Animal Industry prevail.

The general regulations are as follows:

The exhibition of any animal or fowl affected with or exposed to any contagious, infectious, or comunicable disease is prohibited.

All buildings, including exhibition halls or rings, stables, yards, and pens shall be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected under the supervision of the Official Fair Veterinarian or a representative of the Division of Animal Industry prior to the exhibition of livestock.

The Division of Animal Industry reserves the right to cause any examination or test deemed necessary to determine the existence of any suspected disease or of last herd test must appear on Certificate.

The Division of Animal Industry or any Official Fair Veterinarian is authorized and empowered to cause the removal from buildings and grounds, any animal or fowl failing to meet the health requirements herein specified.

Certificates covering tests, inspections and vaccinations of all entries must be presented to the office of the Official Fair Veterinarian.

Upon the acceptance and approval of a certificate, the Official Fair Veterinarian shall issue a permit, showing the entries to have met the health requirements, which entitles the exhibitor to stall or pen space.

The Superinendent upon receipt of such permit shall assign stall or pen space to such entries provided the exhibitor has complied with all other fair requirements.

Certificates must show a detailed record of tests or vaccinations for each animal, when required, giving breed, date of birth, registration name and number, tattoo or ear tag number and the accredited herd number.

Health Certificates covering Ohio animals to be exhibited at Ohio Fairs shall be issued by a Licensed Veterinarian and need not be approved by the Division of Animal Industry.

Health Certificates for Out of State entries will not be accepted unless they bear the approval of the Livestock Official of the State of Origin.

The Official Fair Veterinarian shall maintain temporary office on the Fairgrounds and shall comply with instructions issued by the Division of Animal Industry.

Junior Fair Board Highlight Of Columbiana County Fair

Taking big steps in advancing the Columbiana County Fair is the Junior Fair Board whose work will be one of the outstanding features of the 109th annual fair.

V. B. Lemley is superintendent of the Junior Fair and 15 youthful countians comprise the Junior Fair Board.

The board includes Howard Phillips, Barbara Stanley, Viola Brenner, Franklin Gall, Joel Greenisen, Janice Groves, Donald Kech, Lois Plate, Phyllis Hively, Glen Spillman, Grace McKenzie, William Finch, Paul Zehentbauer, John Hawkins and Yvonna Cunningham.

Zehentbauer and Hawkins are Vocational - Agriculture representatives on the board and Miss Cunningham represents the juvenile granges.

The others are 4-H representatives.

The Junior Fair adopted its constitution in May, setting up as its object "to promote the welfare of Columbiana County boys and girls through their activities and exhibits at the Columbiana County Fair."

The membership is open to any boy or girl living in the county or belonging to an organization within the county that participates in the Junior Fair.

The Junior Fair Board consists of one boy and one girl from each of the six 4-H districts, two boys from each F.F.A. chapter in the county and one person to represent the juvenile granges.

The board members must be from 14-19 years of age when elected. Term of office is two years.

V. B. Lemley

The Junior Fair Advisory Committee includes as directors, the County Agricultural Society Extension Agents.

V. B. Lemley is chairman and other members are Clarence Crosser, P. R. Corey, Floyd Lower, county agent, Miss Jean Stitle, home demonstration agent and Harold Windram, vo-ag instructor.

Fair Board Rules Set

The management of the Columbiana County Fair shall consist of a board of 12 members, elected for a term of thnee years each, the fair's rules declare.

Any adult member of the Columbiana County Agricultural Society is eligible for election, provided, however, that not more than two members shall be elected or serve from any one township at the same time.

IMPROVEMENT FOR FAIR—Workmen are busy nailing on the roof of the new livestock exhibition shelter at the Columbiana County Fairgrounds. The building is expected to be ready for the fair and marks another step in a steady line of improvements to the fairgrounds by the Columbiana County Agricultural Association.

At work on the building are Russell Flory, Harold Windram, James Nisson and Ty Tolley. Lloyd Farmer is standing on the ground.

Farmers Urged To Guard For Swine Disease

Reports that swine erysipelas is again spreading in certain sections of the nation brought a renewed warning today from the American Foundation for Animal Health for farmers and livestock raisers to protect their herds against this disease.

"Swine erysipelas is second only to hog cholera in the losses it inflicts," said a Foundation spokesman. "Once it appears on a farm, the disease may remain to infect successive pig crops unless counter measures are taken."

The disease may strike suddenly, with deaths occurring within 24 hours. Early symptoms of the acute form include high fever and marked depression. Some animals may develop "Hive-like" bumps over the body within two days.

In its chronic form, swine erysipelas may cause stiff and swollen joints and general unthriftiness. A relatively mild form also exists and is characterized by square or diamond-shaped elevations on the skin.

Good management, proper vaccination and veterinary care are essential to checking the disease, say authorities. Affected animals should be removed from the herd and treated immediately. Hog pens should be cleaned and disinfected to destoy the infecting germs which otherwise may live in the soil for months.

Fair's Horse Show To Be Held Tuesday

One of the most popular events at the Columbiana County Fair is the Saddle Horse Show where the best horses in the district are displayed annually.

The horse show will be held Tuesday evening at 6 p.m., offering trophies, ribbons and cash awards. Entries close at 4 p.m. Tuesday. Entry fee is $1.50 per horse per class.

Western classes include: Plain colored, ladies western, spotted class, palomino class, western pairs, parade class, musical chairs (age limit 18 years), western ponies under 48 inches, western ponies over 48 inches and under 52.

English classes are: Open three-gaited, open pleasure class, ponies under 48 inches (riders under 12 years), fine harness, ponies over 48 and under 52 inches, fine harness show ponies, walking horse, five gaited.

HORSES SET FOR FAIR—Two of the record number of horses which will be shown at the County Fair this week peer out of their stalls at the Fairgrounds.

One entry of any kind of hay will be shown by each exhibitor in this year's hay and grass silage show at the Coumbiana County Fair.

Show samples must be selected from this year's hay crop. U. S. Dept. of Agriculture hay standards will be used in judging these exhibits insofar as possible.

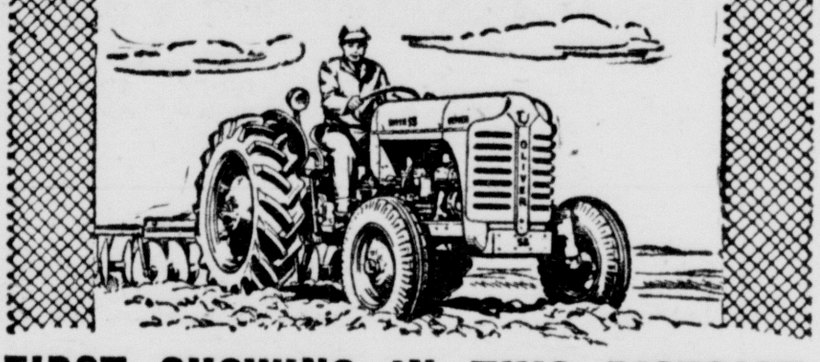

Harold Windram is in charge of this event.

Tests at the Tennessee Dairy Experiment Station show $100 more returns per acre from irrigated than from unirrigated pastures.

FAIR ORGANIST—Connie Zimmerman will accompany the acts and provide organ music at the 109th Columbiana County Fair. She will appear Wednesday through Saturday evenings with the free stage show and acts which have been scheduled for visitors to the fair.

Record Number Of Livestock Entries Received For Fair

A record number of livestock has been registered in competition for the 109th annual Columbiana County Fair.

Fair Board President Galen H. Greenisen said that more than 90 head of 4-H dairy cattle, as well as about 200 head of cattle in open classes had been entered.

Greenisen said about 100 ponies have been entered, as well as 50 sheep and about the same number of swine.

The animals will compete for a share in a $12,000 premium list, largest ever offered at the fair. More than $2,400 in cash prizes will go to 4-H Club winners, he said.

Eighty 4-H steers, raised by members of the Columbiana County Baby Beef Club, will be shown Tuesday and auctioned at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Greenisen said "every inch' of space in two floral halls has been leased to exhibitors. However, some space is still available on the midway for displays housed in tents.

The Fair Board has contracted for the usual midway amusements, including a carousel, farris wheel and other "rides.' The Gun-Sun Booking Co. of Springfield will provide vaudeville acts at 8:30 every evening except Tuesday. A stage has been constructed in front of the grandstand.

"We have every indication," Greenisen declared, "that this will be the biggest fair ever. We're keeping an eye on the weather," he added.

For the first time, a livestock and machinery parade will be staged on Saturday night this year. Stock and machinery will be released from the grounds after the parade, Greenisen said.

Tractor Contests Scheduled Saturday

A tractor pulling contest for tractors in two classes will take the Columbiana County Fair spotlight Saturday at 11 a.m.

It is open to anyone who is capabe of driving a tractor and who abides by the following rules:

Distance of pull will be 20 feet at hone hitching.

Start will be made with a tight chain (no jerking start). The length of chain must be at least four fee minimum.

Contestants will be given two trials to move any load the given distance.

The tractors will be divided into two classifications according to weight only, classified as follows:

Cass A — Up to 3,800 pounds.

Class B — 3,801 - 5,100 pounds.

Prizes of $10, $7.50, $5 and $2.50 will be given for first, second, third and fourth places in each class.

Poultry Exhibitors Can Show 10 Breeds

Exhibitors are permitted to show 10 breeds of birds in the poultry exhibit and all birds so shown must be owned by the exhibitor.

No diseased birds will be allowed to be shown. The judges will allow no premiums when birds do not come up to a high standard of excellence. Birds that are entered in the Single class cannot compete in a Pen and birds exhibited in Pens cannot compete in the Single class

Coops will be furished by the Society. All poultry will be fed and watered by the association free. Exhibitor is to furnish the feed.

Exhibits in this class are open to any poultry breeders in the state.

P. R. Corey is in charge of the poultry division.

Hearty Breakfasts Lessen Farm Risks

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) (UP) — A good breakfast can prevent accidents the University of Illinois says.

Gordon McCleary, executive secretary of the Illinois Rural Safety Council, reports that an analysis of farm accidents indicate often "that it all began at breakfast."

"Whether a poor breakfast starts the victim on an all-day grouch, or fails to cure one he already has, it's often the beginning of an unfortunate chain of events," a university extension service release said of McCleary's report.

McCleary reported thtt the man who goes to the field with a grouch doesn't have much patience and may take foolish chances.

"That increasingly costly cup of coffee may be pretty cheap insurance against an accident when it helps to start the breadwinner off on a good day," the university bulletin said.

About 70 percent of the value of farm products sold comes from family farms.

To help maintain color in peaches, add ascorbic acid.

For spicy stewed peaches, try a dash of cinnamon, or clove bud.

A cool, dry storage place is best for firm ripe peaches.

A bushel of peaches weighs 45 to 48 pounds and yields 18 to 24 quarts of canned fruit.

Salad bowl: Mix salad greens with sliced green onions, radishes and cucumber; add thin strips of Swiss cheese and ham. Just before serving toss with French dressing.

Boys' Wear Selections Made Easy

The trip to buy children's clothes for school wear is one most parents don't usually relish, but trials of this annual task can be minimized if a shopping trip is made in advance of buying, without the children.

Parents can do some advance selection to save time and arguments. And, just as important, parents will be able to check what the boy owns, to see how the "new" clothes seen in the store, will fit in.

When looking for boy's suits, remember that the suit with the square-cut, three-button coat looks best on boys size 12 and under.

Two-button coats tend to look unkempt on small boys because of their activity.

For the junior high and high school boy, the suit with two-button coat will be the general favorite.

The three-button suit coat is the favorite in the Eastern section of the country.

Choose suits carefully for their fabric as well as for fit. There are many handsome new patterns in worsted flannels, colorful wool tweeds and hard-finished worsteds. The dark blue suit — a perennial favorite — now has a new spark of interest with small slubs of lighter blue to enliven the fabric.

Tweed suit fabrics are exceptionally handsome this fall with distinctive background colors enhanced with lighter shales in the pattern and with rich accent colors.

When choosing sports coats, look for a background hue which suits the boy's coloring. Some of the "spice" browns are good choices for the boy with brown hair.

Boys with light hair look well in browns with a dry red tone, and black-haired boys can wear darker blues, browns and greys.

Top coats with zip-out linings have been found by many parents to have extra convenience, and the styles shown this year are exceptionally handsome as well as practical.

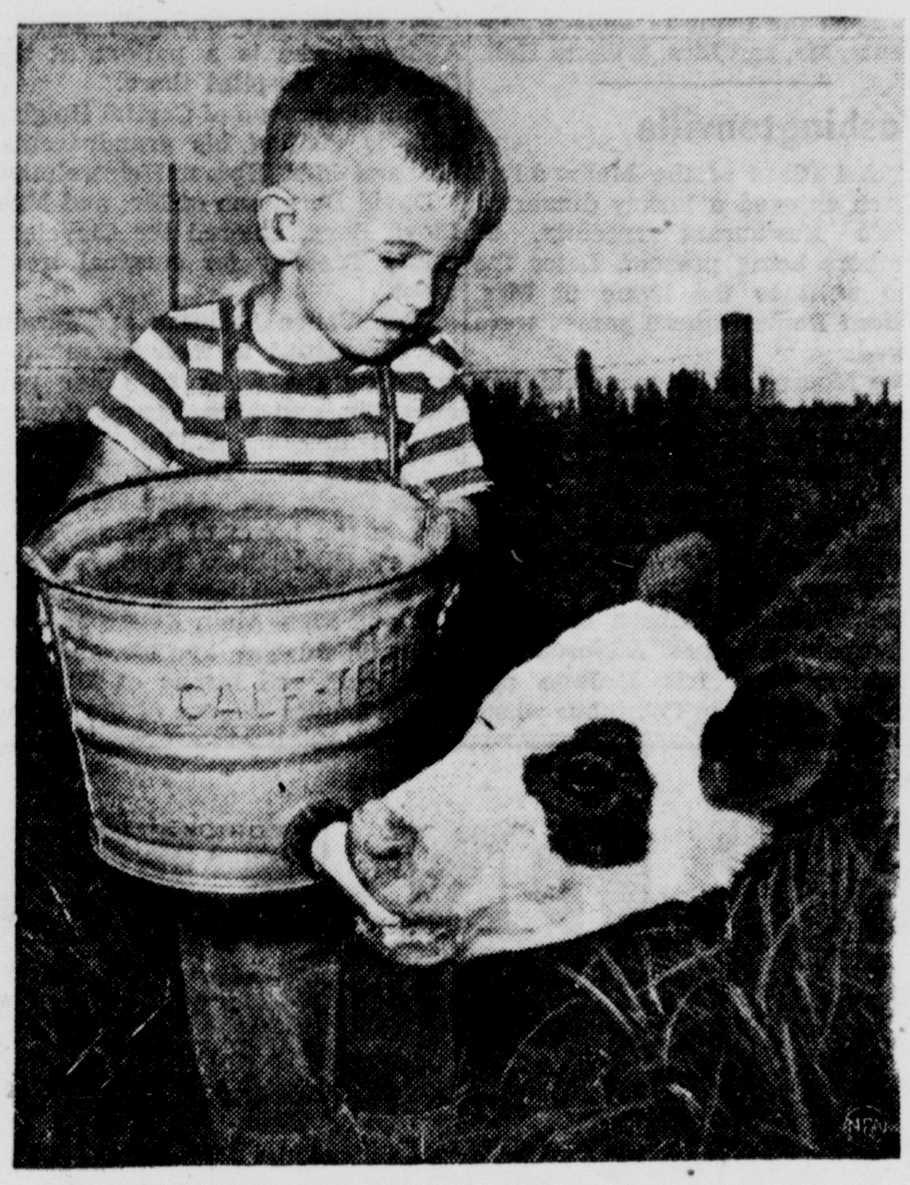

The coats cut with square shoulders, with buttons showing rather than being concealed by a flap, are strongly favored.

The softer tweeds, combining three or more colors, look particularly well in this cut. The more formally-cut, single-breasted coat with notch collar and flapped pockets is shown for Fall in gray and dark blue fleecy wool velours and the belt-in-the-bak polo coat in natural tan wool velour remains in style.

Many boys wear sports shirts and slacks under a short outer coat during milder winter weather. Make sure that he'll be warm by buying wool sports shirts with long sleeves. Three will be the minimum needed to keep him going through the week and allow for washing or dry cleaning.

Children need enough underwear, shirts and socks for ten changes. This will allow a week's wear and enough changes to cover the period when the clothes are being washed. A prime concern for the school term is that the children are warmly-clothed.

Wool socks are recommended for this season, and when choosing boy's undershirts, it's better to have a T-shirt type than the less protective sleeveless singlets.

Ham and Biscuits For Skillet Dinner

When dinner can be made and served in one large skillet, work is certainly cut to a minimum. That's important in hot weather.

Mrs. Sidney A. March, former dietetics teacher of Wheaton, Illinois, and now a busy grandmother of seven growing grandchildren, offers this helpful advice to young mothers.

"Your family will eat better and you will have more time to relax this summer if you serve simple foods, tastefully prepared, via cooking shortcuts such as this easy skillet dinner."

She uses a rich corn meal biscuit dough as the base for this dish. Then the ham is spread over it, and the dough is rolled up jelly-roll fashion and baked.

The spiral filling of ham, melted cheese and green pepper is delightfully flavorful and adds just the right emphasis to the flaky corn meal crust. Here's a dish you will want to try soon. Remember, cooking is fun when you're serving "Dinner in a Skillet."

Ham Skillet Dinner
(Makes 4 servings)

Ham Filling:
Three-quarters pound (2¼ cups) ground cooked ham
¾ cup grated processed cheese
1-3 cup chopped green pepper
1½ teaspoons dry mustard
⅛ teaspoon garlic salt
1 tablesoon milk
Combine ingredients for filling.
Biscuit Dough:
One and one-half cups sifted enriched flour
½ cup enriched corn meal
3 teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup shortening, soft
2-3 cup milk

For biscuit dough, sift together dry ingredients. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk, mixing lightly until mixture is dampened. (Add more milk if necessary to make a soft dough.)

Turn out on lightly floured board; knead gently a few times. Roll the dough out on lightly floured board to form a rectangle 25 x 8 inches. Spread with ham filling.

Roll the dough lengthwise as for a jelly roll. Slide the long roll into a small skillet (about 8-inch diameter), coiling it as you put it in. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

Serve hot with mushroom sauce (made by adding 2 tablespoons milk to contents of can of condensed mushroom soup and heating together). Garnish with additional sliced mushrooms if desired.

Cab Driver Gets Reward For Returning Jewels

NEW YORK (AP) — Honesty paid off Saturday to the tune of $1,900 for taxi driver Fritz Morris, who had turned over to police a bag of jewels he found in his cab.

The jewelry had been lost by Mrs. Abraham Scheer, wife of a Fifth Avenue glove firm executive. An insurance company representative set the value at $19,000.

So Morris got a 10 per cent reward and Mrs. Scheer, in turning over a check to the cabbie, said:

"I am thrilled. It's a pleasure to know there are honest people in the world."

Exclaimed Morris:

"What I can do with that! I certainly am grateful. I guess honesty is the best policy after all. It certainly would be a better world if everyone followed that philosophy."

Unemployment Claims Show New Decrease

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government says new claims for unemployment compensation have done down for the fifth straight week. During the week ended Aug. 14 they hit the lowest level since last October.

The Bureau of Employment Security reports initial claims last week totaled 255,700, down 16,500 from the previous week.

Uenmployment among persons insured for jobless compensation was counted at 1¾ million for the week ended Aug. 7, the lowest such figure since last Sept. 26. This was a 39,100 decline from the previous week and a drop of more than 400,000 from the February 1954 peak of 2,213,000.

Here's a list of household chores it's a good idea to attend to weekly: Vacuum all upholstered furniture; dust furniture, baseboards, radiators, door and window woodwork, picture frames, mirrors and lamps; move furniture to clean floors thoroughly; clean rugs with vacuum cleaner; straighten closets and drawers; polish metal fixtures in bathroom and kitchen; clean stove, including burners, oven and broiler; clean refrigerator inside and out.

SAD SACK STEED—Bedecked in a strange-looking coat, this armored charger does his jousting in a sweet potato patch near Trenton, N. J. The plowman who draped his noble steed in potato sacking to protect it from the sun and flies preferred to remain anonymous.

BUY BEEF As You Buy So Many Other Items For Your Table And Your Home By Name

A Word From John Liber . . .

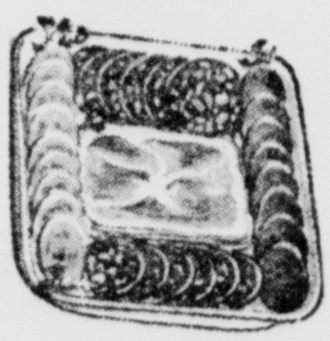

To aid you in selecting the better grades of beef we are now stamping the Liber name and grade on each side of beef distributed to your favorite store.

Since this beef bears the name of John Liber, the utmost care is used in grading the meat. Our experienced graders are placing these stamps only on those grades of meat which meet the most rigid standards. Heretofore, grading of meats has been under government regulations and occasionally a piece of beef bore the stamp of a grade above or below that which was marked — these grades are known in the trade as "Border Line." It is our aim to give the purchaser the benefit of any doubt by stamping "Border Line" meats a grade below that which it might bear under ordinary grading. Thus a buyer of Liber's Prize Brand may occasionally receive a cut which in the past could have been graded as "Prime".

Since there will be only four grades bearing the Liber Stamp — Blue Ribbon, Prize Brand, Quality and Economy — you may be sure that you are getting beef that is exactly as represented.

Power Tools Make Workshop Work

By ANDREW C. LANG

Most home workshops are Topsy creations; they just grow.

When a man reaches the point where he actually plans the make-up of a workshop, he's really getting serious about being a handyman or a hobbyist or both.

A home workshop can be located in a basement, an attic, a garage, an outdoor shed or even in a spare room in the house. But seldom is a guy lucky enough to be able to make a choice. He uses whatever space is available. The limitations of the location must be recognized and adequate steps taken to correct the deficiencies.

For instance — A basement is an excellent place for a home workshop because it doesn't interfere with ordinary home activities, because lighting arrangements can be made without breaking down or into a wall and because power tools do not vibrate much on a concrete floor.

But a basement is often damp, difficult to keep at a comfortable temperature all year 'round and hard on the feet.

The solution? Damp-proof i n g and dehumidifying, heating and cooling devices and a floor covering that will be kind to the feet without destroying the solidity of the concrete base.

AN ATTIC is usually drier and cleaner than a basement with a wooden floor that is less fatiguing than concrete. Assuming that the necessary adjustments have been made to keep the temperature and humidity at a comfortable level, there is still the major problem of noise and vibration.

The solution? Rubber cutouts unded power tool stands and other shock absorbing and sound-proofing steps.

Garages, outdoor sheds and regular house rooms have related problems and solutions. No one location will be ideal at the start. Most of them can be made reasonably so.

Dismiss any idea you might have that the possession of power tools will make an expert out of you. Numerous basic hand tools are necessary, and you'd better learn how to use them fairly well if you want to turn out good work. What power tools will enable you to do is to complete a project in far less time than it would take a professional without them.

SOME OF THE BASIC hand tools you probably already have, such as a claw hammer, a screwdriver, pliers, a wrench, chisel and so on. You must have done some work around the house or you wouldn't want to set up a complete workshop, so you probably know what hand tools you need but just haven't gotten around to buying. Even after you've stocked up pretty well, you'll find yourself buying additional tools from time to time. That will give you a problem of tool placement — unless you've left room in your original workshop planning for expansion.

In the power tool line, a portable electric drill kit is almost a necessity Get one of good quality or you'll regret it within a few months. Be sure it has a ground wire connection. Use the disc sander attachment for heavy work only. It revolves so rapidly that it is difficult to get good results when using it on fine work.

Portable power sanders which are units within themselves are excellent time-savers. Portable power saws save lots of back-breaking work on projects where the saws must be brought to the work. If you get a paint sprayer, electric or pressure, practice on scrap wood to get the knack of it before you use it on a first-class project.

YOUR WORKSHOP begins to get the professional look with addition of power tools on stands. What power tools should you get if you can't afford to get all of them? That depends on what type of work you usually do. If it's mostly straight-line cutting of the fairly heavy kind, a bench saw would be your first choice. If you're going in for cutouts, models, small furniture and so on, make it a jigsaw. In the same category is the bandsaw, except that it generaly is a heavier machine and will handle heavier work.

A drill press will do more jobs than drilling holes. A lathe is for the fellow who is going to do a lot of woodturning. Every one of these toos will do many more tasks than its basic function with the addiion of the countless accessories now on the market. Before you buy, find out what the machine wil. do, with and without accessories.

There are many other new power tools on the market. The multi-shaper, for instance, is a distinctive belt sander that performs a variety of operations besides sanding. And then, of course, there are the combination power t o o l outfits which give you several power tools in individual setups. They are particularly good where space is at a premium, but the range between the good combinations and the poor ones is so wide that a careful study of all of them is urged before making a choice. Get the one that will best suit your needs and not the first one you happen to look at.

THE LOCATION of the power tools in your home workshop set-up will work itself out in time. For instance, you'll find that a bench saw placed against a wall is impractical. When you want to rip a long board, there won't be room. Eventually, you'll decide, as so many other home handymen do, that the best place for a bench saw is pretty much in the center of the shop.

If you're buying or building a new workbench, the prime consideration is solidity. You want a bench that will stand up under abuse. We emphasize that because so many ambitions newcomers to woodworking put together a workbench that looks nice and has a lot of do-dads but which becomes a nuisance after a while. Tool troughs along the back edge of the bench, to give you one example, have a professional appearance, yet are annoying in actual use. The tools in them bounce around every time you do any hammering, sawing or other heavy work on the bench.

Fish fillets are good enough for a company supper if they're served with an almond sauce. To make the sauce, melt six ablespoons of butter or margarine in a skillet; add a half-cup of slivered almonds and stir constantly over moderate heat until the almonds are delicately browned. Spoon the sauce over four servings of broiled fish fillets.

'DOG HERO OF HEROES' — Tang, 65-pound collie, sits with his mistress, Mrs. Maurice L. Dyer of Dennison, Texas, who holds plaque awarded the dog at Chicago as "America's dog hero of heroes for 1954." Along with title and plaque, Tang received $1,000 in U. S. saving bonds, gold medal, gold-plated leash and collar. Tang is credited with saving four small children from possible death by pushing them from the path of automobiles.

Accidental Death Lurks Down On The Farm

Death lurks in the cow pastures and barnyards of America. And it has peculiar ways of striking down the farmer and his family.

Drownings, for instance, are not uncommon out on the range lands far from the sea. An irrigation ditch is a natural spot for a child to fall into after a heavy rain.

Growing food and tending livestock can be as dangerous as driving in holiday taffic.

During 1953 some 3800 farm residents were killed in occupational accidenta. This puts agriculture second to none for fatalities. Next on the list is the construction industry which had roughly 2500 deaths last year.

THIS IS WHY the Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with the National Safety Council, is launching a high-gear, forward-looking program. It was just recently kicked off by the observance of National Farm Safety Week.

"I feel sure we can cut the farm accident rate in half by 1963 . . but, if we are going to reach this goal, we will need to redouble our efforts in every field," says Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Each hour of the farmer's long day is loaded with risks to life and limb. A tractor out on the flat range is a sitting duck for a sizzling bolt of lightning. For this destructive offspring of a thunder clap seeks out the highest object within range.

No matter how you look at it, a tractor is dangerous to a careless farmer. An improperly driven one can be as wild and bone-beaking as a mad bull. That's why tractors rack up the largest percentage of accidents, even though they are the most valuable machine the farmer has. Today nearly 4,500,000 of them are in use on the nation's farms.

CARELESSNESS LEADS to practically all injuries and deaths. More than one farm hand has slid off a haystack onto the brutally sharp end of a pitchfork. Poorly secured ladders can give a farmer a nasty bruise when he happens to be at the top of one when it falls.

Improper handling of animals is responsible for many accidents. A scared horse can let go with a mean kick. The bull must be treated with respect and led with a strong staff securely hooked into its nose ring. When a farmer enters the pen of a sow with a new little of pigs he should make sure there is a portable gate in front of him.

Modern farm devices often do damage when used without thinking. Electric fences are meant to keep livestock confined with small shocks. But in numerous cases farmers and their children have been electrocuted or badly burnt when an unsafe fence is contacted near or in stock tanks, ponds, irrigation ditches or damp ground.

The National Safety Council further reports that many of these accidents are due to badly made electric fences which are allowed on the market. So far there has been little state legislation to prevent such a practice.

Automatic corn pickers and silage cutters have maimed and mangled countless arms and legs on the farm. Disregarding safety, farmers reach into the machines when they clog and before they know it they are dragged into the apparatus.

INSECT CONTROL too often kills people. Sprays and dust can be poisonous unless protective clothing and respirators are employed. The storage of unused chemicals is also fraught with danger.

One of the main obstacles to farm safety is the lack of adequate statistics in certain areas of the country. As Rep. Clifford R. Hope, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, puts it, "We must know where and why accidents happen before we can begin to convince farm people that they can and must take more caution in their daily activities."

ARABELLA — One of the outstanding women in the field of comedy is Arabella, who will appear Wednesday through Saturday evenings at the County Fair. During her act she not only uses the drums, piano, accordian, horns and other instruments, but also the stage, scenery, race track and grandstand itself in her violent comedy routine.

LOSE A WEDDING GOWN?

GREENWICH, Ohio (AP) — Anybody lose a wedding gown? Mr. and Mrs. Ray Law of Greenwich found a full length, white one Thursday along U.S. 224. The only identification were the words "Bridal gowns and formals, Lockhaven, Pa.,' printed on the box.

Sprinkle quick-frozen french fried potatoes with pure monosodium glutamate before heating in the oven. You'll need about a quarter teaspon of the monosodium glutamate for a package of the potatoes. Nice flavor.

Lovely Nefertiti

By RELMAN MORIN
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—Since the movie makers seem to be in the middle of an "Egyptian cycle" just now, it is surprising that they have overlooked one of the great love stories of that fascinating land.

It involves a queen, and a mysterious tragedy.

She was the lovely Nefertiti and you doubtless have seen copies of the famous head—the long, arching neck and perfect profile, the wide, almond shaped eyes, all balanced by a massive royal headdress.

In the wall engravings that have survived these 3,000 years, she appears as a slim and beautifully formed woman, almost as tall as her husband, the king. And this is a description of her in the words of some forgotten writer—

"The heiress, great in favor, lady of grace, sweet of love, mistress of the south and north, fair of face, gay with the two plumes, chief wife of the king, whom he loves, lady of the two lands, great of love, Nefertiti, living forever and ever . . ."

But in the city where this appears, there is a ruined building that breathes of tragedy. It evidently was her home and it indicates that after perhaps 14 years of perfect marriage, she left the palace and her husband never to return.

Why? Did she quarrel with the king and leave voluntarily? Or was she sent away, blasted by some terrible disgrace? The secret has never been unlocked, but here is the story up to the point where it disappears in voiceless dark.

Her husband, Akhnaton, was an extraordinary man. If you read that excellent book, "The Egyptian," you learned a good deal about him. He is known as the "great heretic."

He broke away from the powerful and established priesthood that had gripped Egypt for thousands of years before his day. He introduced the concept of a single deity—an astonishing forerunner of Christianity—eliminated the elements of fear and dread that characterized the old religion.

In short, he abolished the thousand gods and demons of the old ways, and taught his people to worship in a spirit of joy and light. Again, the parallel between these patterns and the Christian concept, which was to appear many centuries later, is almost startling.

Meanwhile, his life with his queen, Nefertiti, must have been a romantic idyll.

The engravings show them in charming poses...the king with his arm around her...supporting her in a chariot...holding her hand as he dispenses gifts...the king and queen playing with their daughters.

Then something happened. She left him and went to live in a house on the north side of the royal capital that he had built.

Nobody knows why.

But there is a theory that in his later years, Akhnaton recoiled from the fearful step he had taken, the rejection of the ancient gods. Perhaps the priests slowly wore him down.

There is a belief that Nefertiti, for political reasons, was an even more fierce enemy of the old gods than he was. And perhaps this was the basis for a terrible quarrel that caused her to leave him.

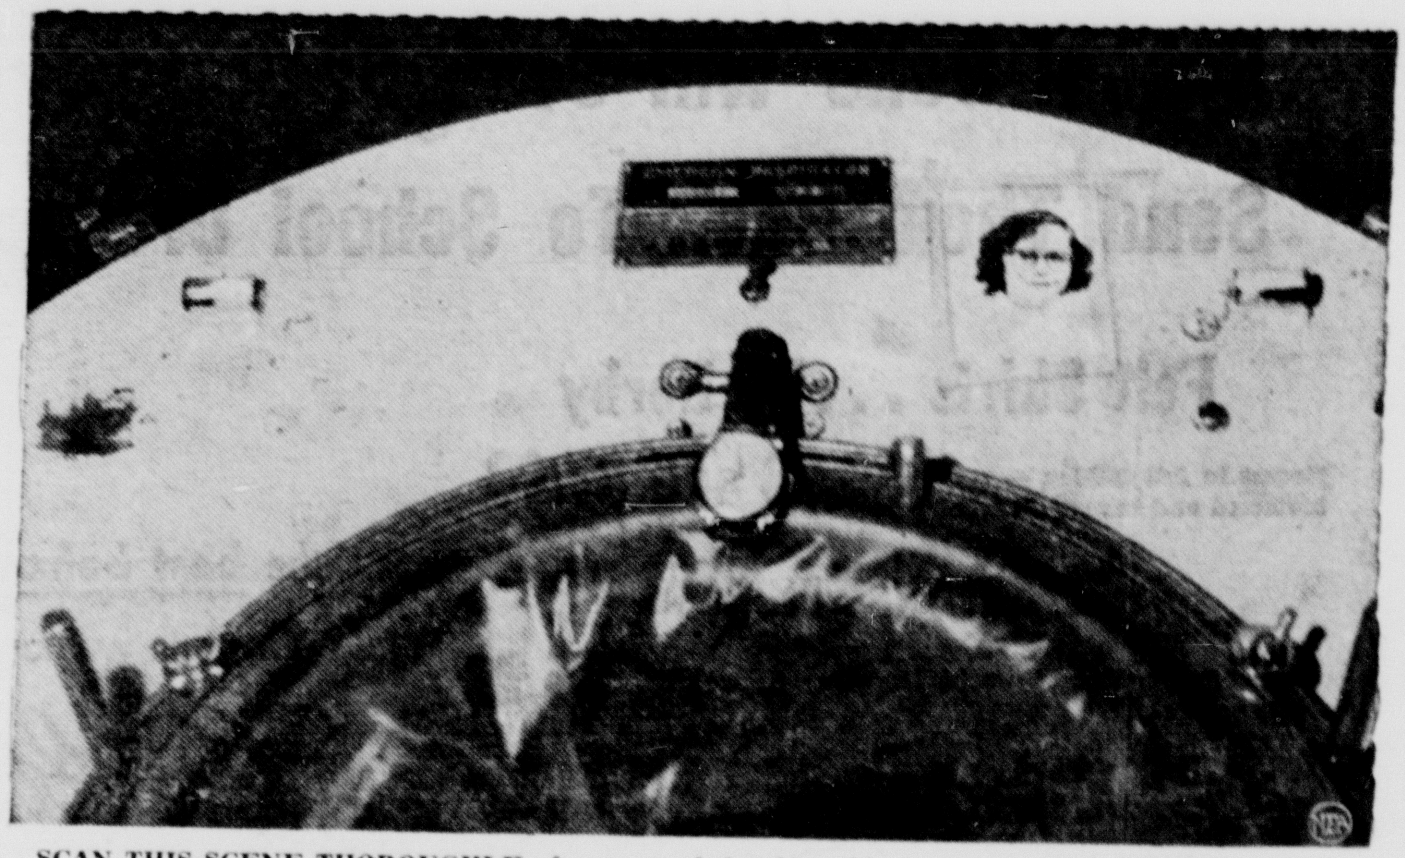

Her name was erased from many of the statues and much of the story has been lost.

Which leaves room for the scenario writers to graft a happy ending on it.

"Campus characters" at staid Oxford University believe in sticking together. They founded the Heretics Club at the school in 1948 for the purpose of providing a platform for freethinkers, non-conformists, exotics and eccentrics.

'Far Horizons' Of One Small Victim Of Dread Polio

August is a great month for youngsters. It is a time for the never-ending adventure of growing up. But it's not for children like Clyde Garnett, of New York City, a polio patient. The monotonous rhythm of the huge iron tank limits his world—in August, May or December. The dimes given to the March of Dimes last year and the years before that, saved Clyde's life. Right now, until the end of the month, an emergency March of Dimes is being held to refill the exhausted coffers . . . to provide at least a minimum of life to more children like Clyde.

SCAN THIS SCENE THOROUGHLY—for most of the day, this is the world of Clyde Garnett. It is what he sees as he lies helpless in his iron lung. His watch ticks the hours away before him. The snapshot is of his girl friend Betsy.

A FEW fleeting hours can be spent in a chest respirator. His mother holds his hand and strokes it over Snowball, the family cat.

ONLY OCCASIONALLY come breaks in the monotony, such as when his twin, Ward, drops in to chat. All Clyde can move is his eyes.
